Tracing its origin back at least seventy years, the Freshmen Rush, or as it is more commonly known, the Freshmen Rush Conference, is an event that no Tech student wants to miss. It is a chance to connect with your peers, explore the campus, and experience the unique culture of the Institute.

The Rush Conference typically takes place in the fall, with the exact date and location varying from year to year. It is open to all new students and is a great opportunity to meet fellow students and learn more about the traditions and expectations of the Institute.

Rush includes a series of events designed to introduce new students to the various fraternities on campus. These events are led by upperclassmen and provide a fun and engaging way to learn more about the different organizations.

In addition to the Rush Conference, there are many other events and activities available to new students throughout the year. These include sports teams, clubs, and social events that provide opportunities for students to get involved and make new friends.

Overall, the Rush Conference is an important part of the new student experience at the Institute. It is a time to make new connections, learn about the traditions and culture of the community, and have fun with your new classmates.
