Varsity Cross Country Men Leave for Race at Cornell Tomorrow Night

Tomorrow night will find the Varsity runners on their way to their first clash of the season, a four mile dual run with Cornell at Ithaca. Coach Kanaly will take his half mile and mile men into the varsity's already nearly enough so that they can finish runners-in-review. Displacing any regular, he might be necessary for the sake of the team, many of his men come out, not inter- ested.

SCHEDULE FIRST FRESHMAN RELAY TRIALS FOR TODAY

Preliminary Tests for Soph Men Day by Rain in Rosemeade Due Tomorrow

The candidates for both the class relay teams have been hard at work this week getting into trim for the preliminary trials which will be held for the class sprints today. Although these are only the first try-outs they are the most important because anyone who does not compete now will have little chance to enter the finals which will be run a week later. The first year men will be elected this afternoon from 3 to 4 o'clock, while the Sophs will have their trials at the same hours tomorrow afternoon.
