

VARSITY TRACK GETS UNDER WAY WITH HANDICAP MEET

NEW RELAY AND FIELD EVENTS MEN NEEDED TO FILL GAPS LEFT IN LAST YEAR'S TEAM

Varsity track work with an eye to the meets of the winter and spring is already well under way. Captain A. D. Smith has made personal appeals to all men who have shown up well in the past and are expected to prove assets to the Engineers this year in an effort to line up all the available track and field candidates at Technology for an intensive campaign of preliminary training.

Fall Handicap Meet a Stock Taking
The annual fall handicap track and field meet will be held on Tech Field, Saturday, November 4, the day after Field Day. Every man who can possibly turn out is urged to do so in order that Coach Kanaly may obtain a better idea of the material he will have to work with in forming his teams for the coming seasons, both indoor and outdoor. The fact that the contest will come the afternoon following the festivities of Tech Night is recognized by both Coach Kanaly and Captain Smith and due allowance will be made for slower times. The meet in itself is unimportant but as a factor in forming the Varsity teams of winter and spring it can scarcely be overestimated.

N. E. Championship Important
The 1922 N. E. I. C. A. A. meet will be a decisive one for Technology. A win this year means permanent ownership of the intercollegiate trophy which now rests in the trophy room in Walker, thanks to five successive wins and last year's tie with Boston College. But it will take the best efforts of Coach Kanaly and Captain Smith to nail that trophy. The Eagles have had most of their best men in training all summer and the fine condition they are in was recently demonstrated at the City of Boston games, Columbus Day. Boston College is a new arrival in the ranks of the big track teams but her ambitions are backed by more than hope. Last year a combination of bad breaks forced the Institute team into a last ditch stand to even secure a tie and the result hasn't injured B. C.'s assurance in any way. It is common talk that Coach Jack Ryder's charges are looking forward to snatching the championship so long held by the Cardinal and Gray just as soon as the next meet gives them the opportunity.

Engineers Hard Hit by Losses
A great number of the stars of last year's Varsity are lost to the squad and that means that Coach Kanaly has the job of developing new men to fill the gaps. The Engineer mentor's long record and the way he put Technology on the map in track athletics marks him as the man to do this very thing but he has to have material to work with. Poole, Chittick, Bill Smith, Tonon, Nimick, Merrill, Dippel are all names that counted in the score columns for the Institute and all of them are gone from the lineup. From the standpoint of the inexperienced candidate looking for a chance to win his letter nothing could be sweeter. To begin with, every one of the four men on the mile relay are through. That relay overwhelmed Harvard, beat the fast Syracuse quartet, and finished third in the championships at New York. Here is a great opening for any man who can click off even a passable 440. Many a man who looked rotten at the start of a season was scoring points after a few months under Coach Kanaly's tutelage.

Then every department of the outdoor team needs strengthening, except the mile and two mile events which the veteran cross country squad will fully take care of. About sixty men are reporting for fall training but there should be double that number. Hard and steady practice has made more than one apparently hopeless team a winner at the finish and Technology's case is not hopeless by a long shot. However, it will take real work and plenty of it to turn out teams for winter and spring competitions that will carry off the honors expected of them. Coach Kanaly and Captain Art Smith are fully able to hold up their end so it looks like, simply a matter of whether or not the men at the Institute who have the goods will direct their abilities to the team's benefit.

Indoor Teams Picked This Term
Just as soon after the handicap meet as the ground gets bad the training will shift to the board track in back of Tech Field. Here the work will go on until in December time trials will be held to determine the lineups of the mile and two mile relay teams for the indoor season. This doesn't leave any excess time for men to get into shape before the teams are picked and the sooner they start in the better.

The indoor schedule is still in the making but it will undoubtedly include a clash with Harvard at the B. A. A. and a trip to the indoor championships in New York. The two mile team will tackle Dartmouth and Syracuse at the B. A. A. and try B. C. or Yale at the Legion Meet. Additional dates are under consideration. The spring schedule is made up entirely of trips with the possible exception of the New England championships which may be held on Tech Field.

Few Tug of War Men Working Regularly

More men are needed by both Soph and frosh tug of war teams. To turn out a winning combination by Field Day at least fifty men are needed by each set of coaches. About half that number are showing up now and not much headway is being made. The Sophomore team practices daily at the end of the rifle range, while the frosh practice is held in the rear of the track house. Field Day is only a little over a week away and there is much to be done during the next few days.

Spring Track Schedule

April 21—Interclass Games.
April 28—Naval Academy at Annapolis (pending) or Penn Relays.
May 5—Harvard at the Stadium.
May 12—Dartmouth at Hanover.
May 18-19—N. E. I. C. A. A. Championships probably at Tech Field.
May 25-26—I. C. A. A. A. A. Championships at Philadelphia, University of Penn.

'26 SPRINTERS DUE FOR FINAL TRIALS THIS AFTERNOON

Coach Kanaly Will Pick Team According to Times Made Without Competition

The final trials for the class relay teams will be held at Tech Field today and tomorrow from 3 to 5 o'clock. The freshmen will be given the chance to show their speed this afternoon, while the Sophomores will be clocked Thursday. A new system of selecting the men who will eventually represent their classes on Field Day has been inaugurated by Coach Kanaly. Instead of having the candidates run against each other as was done at the final trials in former years, each man will run and his time will be taken. Then the times will be compared and the final selection of Field Day teams will be made.

This manner of picking the relay men has been put into effect because it seems to be, on the whole, the most impartial and practicable method of making the necessary selections. If any ties occur on either of the days, they will be run off the day following. Practice has been going on for three weeks now, and the real ability of the relay aspirants can be determined by today's and tomorrow's trials. The preliminary tryouts gave a general idea of what can be expected in the way of final results, but it will take these second trials to bring out the true speed of the class runners.

Institute Swordsmen to Have French Coach

The Institute fencing team has already begun training in the Walker gym with a good crowd of candidates reporting regularly to the new coach, J. L. Danguy, who trains the B. A. A. swordsmen as well, will take care of the Engineers this season. Monsieur Danguy is one of the best fencers of the famous French school and holds diplomas from the Academie d'Armes of Paris, and the national Academie d'Epees of France. The new coach has arranged for classes for new men between 4:30 and 6:30 o'clock Saturday afternoons, in addition to the usual training of the team. There is no charge for this instruction but the men will be expected to provide their own weapons. Captain George Ferreya, who holds the New England sabre title, is the only veteran left to the squad this year though there are several promising novices on the job.

Sophomores Play Lowell and Frosh Face Brown Subs

Old Jupe Pluvius upset the plans for the opening football practice of the week Monday afternoon by chasing the pigskin chasers from the field before any active practice had begun. A few men of both squads were out but nothing was accomplished. After Monday's layoff the coaches planned scrimmages for both teams but there were not enough of either squad out on Tuesday to carry out their plans. The Sophs, with Phil Carrier back in the lineup, ran signals and tried out the ability of the linemen in getting down under punts. With Carrier back in the team, the whole outfit is in shape for the Lowell Textile game Saturday and with the regular work during the week, they should come out on top in the struggle.

The frosh squad came through the Tufts game without mishap and the coaches are speeding up their charges for the grand finale of the season which is now less than a week and a half away. The unexpected showing of the 1926 team last Saturday has convinced its followers that they have a real outfit representing them and one that will make the veteran 1925 eleven travel at its best clip to defeat it Field Day.

The frosh spent yesterday afternoon in perfecting some new plays which they will have opportunity to try out this week when they tackle the powerful Brown second team. This outfit pinned a 26-0 defeat on last year's 1924 eleven and can be relied upon to tax the frosh to their limit.
