SOLICITORS

THE TECH

Wednesday, October 27, 1920

TO THE EDITOR OF THE TECH:
The editor of Monday's TECH in his article on the Press and the Press Association is mistaken in his statement that the Institute Committee is trying to make the Institute men cosmopolitans. The Institute Committee is trying to make the Institute men appreciators of the Press. The Institute as an institution has not expressed an opinion on the Press. It is the duty of the student body as a whole to study the Press. No subscription to the Institute Committee is required to study the Press. The Institute Committee, through the Press Association, is trying to broaden the understanding of the Press. The Institute Committee is not trying to make the Institute men cosmopolitans.

ROBERT P. SHAW,
Chairman, Institute Committee.

Dear Lounger—
The white heins no phenomenal talents as regards athletics. He is no better than the brightest, but there is no exception that he can be a valuable player at this film, and he would be glad to try his skill at athletics. In our years we must be taught that we, and the course will be independent of the velocity. However, in spite of the evidence, there is a certain number of players, who think that the work done varies inversely as its velocity. That is naturally the case, for the faster they work, the better the work. The Lounger has noticed with regret that most of the Institute Committee in its magnetic tentacles has overwhelmed his resistance, and has denounced the committee as a "Slave Driver" and "Rigid Association, and the recognition would be withdrawn. At this time, however, the Institute Committee will consider the value of the Press in its attempt to broaden the understanding of the Press. It should be understood that the Institute Committee is not a separate organization but in the student government of Technology. Its purpose is to back actively organizations that are in the interest of the Institute Committee and our students, and can be encouraged by a knowledge of the situation.

ROBERT P. SHAW,
Chairman, Institute Committee.

STODDERS

The "Brae-Burn" Shoes

A Quality Oxford
a full double sole Brogue
in Norwegian Grain

In this shoe we offer the greatest value we have yet produced. The last is the best developed to date that experts have been able to evolve. The shoe is made with Norwegian Grain, soft and pliable yet tough and durable. The pattern is a development of the artist's idea as well as practical and attractive. Soles are heavy, double, and running full length with wide, wide, broad heel and flanged with welted seaming. The shoe is a perfect combination of beauty and practicality, with the balance of the shoe, which is of the utmost importance in the shoe industry. A shoe that would readily sell at $81 to $10. We will say it is a "bog shoe" for
