Admit Technology Crew to Rowing Association at New York Meeting

Three Contests Added to Engineering Rowers' Spring Program

Manager Fred Hungerford, the first] Technology crew man to attend the] fall regatta of the American Rowing] Association, which was held in New] York City last week. Manager Hungerford reports that in addition to the unauthorized and unrequested attendance of three crewmen, there was the addition of two races to the regatta.

The tentative spring program for Technology crew next year includes the first round of Yale, Harvard, and Penn, which will be held this year at Derby Day, and see that the interest in crew rowing is maintained, and that the association spends almost all its effort in that branch. In addition to the unauthorized and unrequested attendance of
three crewmen, there was the addition of
two races to the regatta.

Three Contests Added to
Technology Crew's Spring Program

Manager Fred Hungerford, the first

crewman to attend the American Rowing Association regatta, which was held in New York City last week. Manager Hungerford reports that in addition to the unauthorized and unrequested attendance of three crewmen, there was the total of three races to the regatta.

The tentative spring program for Technology crew next year includes the
first round of Yale, Harvard, and Penn,
which will be held this year at Derby
Day, and see that the interest in crew
rowing is maintained, and that the association spends almost all its effort in that
branch. In addition to the unauthorized and unrequested attendance of three crewmen, there was the addition of
two races to the regatta.

Three Contests Added to
Technology Crew's Spring Program

Manager Fred Hungerford, the first
crewman to attend the American
Rowing Association regatta, which
was held in New York City last
week. Manager Hungerford reports
that in addition to the unautho-
rized and unrequested attendance
of three crewmen, there was the total of three races to the regatta.

The tentative spring program for
Technology crew next year includes the
first round of Yale, Harvard, and Penn,
which will be held this year at Derby
Day, and see that the interest in crew
rowing is maintained, and that the association spends almost all its effort in that
branch. In addition to the unau-
thorized and unrequested attendance
of three crewmen, there was the addition of
two races to the regatta.

Three Contests Added to
Technology Crew's Spring Program

Manager Fred Hungerford, the first

crewman to attend the American
Rowing Association regatta, which
was held in New York City last
week. Manager Hungerford reports
that in addition to the unautho-
rized and unrequested attendance
of three crewmen, there was the total of
three races to the regatta.

The tentative spring program for
Technology crew next year includes the
first round of Yale, Harvard, and Penn,
which will be held this year at Derby
Day, and see that the interest in crew
rowing is maintained, and that the association spends almost all its effort in that
branch. In addition to the unau-
thorized and unrequested attendance
of three crewmen, there was the addition of
two races to the regatta.