The Thechnology of Thirty Years Ago

By Professor W. F. Tal' 95

Some time ago when trying to sing "On Rogers Steps" and "Our Jolly Old College" realizing that certain changes in words and when the Rogers Building was the best place for music and "The New Yarker" was the "rendevous" of all students when the last class of the year was over the Tech student to sing those songs.

Thirty years ago, there was to be a meeting on the level of Engineering Buildings on Trinity Tuesday evening. The orchestra was to consist of strings only. So the ginnsal was to "be kept at bay" until 5:00 o'clock as the Walling Building was point toce of the Medical and Hospital.

President's Door Always Open

Besides the historic Rogers Steps and "The New Yarker" are the things inside that were differ in any way on the right was a "stop" kept by the watchman's office and books and cafe.

Left the efficient office, and at the door was the door was usually open and was to be seen in the watching address to Freshmen or they might be found at any time when his door was open.

There were other places to be made to Freshmen and Sophomore, but these things. Dr. H. W. Hayward, it was a continual leading yell, but they did not know how to do it. He told us how to do it.

Not the least known among the land marks of the old Technology was "The Chapel." It was an ivy-cov-ered structure built of brick and the stone seats at the top -there were about 1879. Acceptance than 40 Professors.

Ingram W. G. Petree, Jr.

Not by its history alone, but its connected with it. All men admire and revere requirements in any school of engineering. So the Tech student to sing those songs.

either a discussion in the class room of political, social and economic subjects that had to do with the old Technology or a series of reports becas outside reading would greatly facilitate this. The students were learning himself with matters of public concern. They were learning to be aware of every man to be well acquainted with things of his own day because it is for him to know the history of fifty years ago.

Athletic maintenance

It must be very lucrative to both undergraduate and alumni who have a little more luck, to note the recent activity which has taken place at the Varsity's and Institute fields. The improvements made on the old boat house and fence, the grounds on the new gymnasium are encourage-This is a natural thing since what was completed along similar lines in other fields of activity. In view of the above, the time could not be more appropriate to cash old our "something else again."

Signal Corps will hold smoker tomorrow night
