THE TECH SATURDAY

IT is unfortunate that more undergraduates were unable to attend the recital given by Mrs. Ross and Mr. Griffith last Saturday. Although quite a number of outsiders and members of the faculty were present, the list of a few names who wished to attend from being complete.

The large presence of the Musical and Literary was not due to bad judgment or a lack of proper appreciation, but to the fact that the evening was too good to be passed over. The program was an excellent one. The entertainment opened with the appearance of B. G. F. Ashworth on the piano, playing a nocturne by Chopin. Miss Levin played "The Dreamer" by Hoffmann, while Miss H. E. Walker on the organ. The recital was rounded off by the singing of a Schubert quartet by a quartet of Freshmen.

Although the recital was successful, the committee in charge of the affair did not have the satisfaction of hearing some of the songs which were sung. The students do not seem to realize the importance of being punctual or of hearing the program. As a result, the committee finds its work neglected.

LITURGICAL SUPPLEMENT

THE RECITAL SATURDAY

It is unfortunate that more undergraduates were unable to attend the recital given by Mrs. Ross and Mr. Griffith last Saturday. Although quite a number of outsiders and members of the faculty were present, the list of a few names who wished to attend from being complete. The large presence of the Musical and Literary was not due to bad judgment or a lack of proper appreciation, but to the fact that the evening was too good to be passed over. The program was an excellent one. The entertainment opened with the appearance of B. G. F. Ashworth on the piano, playing a nocturne by Chopin. Miss Levin played "The Dreamer" by Hoffmann, while Miss H. E. Walker on the organ. The recital was rounded off by the singing of a Schubert quartet by a quartet of Freshmen.

Although the recital was successful, the committee in charge of the affair did not have the satisfaction of hearing some of the songs which were sung. The students do not seem to realize the importance of being punctual or of hearing the program. As a result, the committee finds its work neglected.

LITURGICAL SUPPLEMENT

THE RECITAL SATURDAY

It is unfortunate that more undergraduates were unable to attend the recital given by Mrs. Ross and Mr. Griffith last Saturday. Although quite a number of outsiders and members of the faculty were present, the list of a few names who wished to attend from being complete. The large presence of the Musical and Literary was not due to bad judgment or a lack of proper appreciation, but to the fact that the evening was too good to be passed over. The program was an excellent one. The entertainment opened with the appearance of B. G. F. Ashworth on the piano, playing a nocturne by Chopin. Miss Levin played "The Dreamer" by Hoffmann, while Miss H. E. Walker on the organ. The recital was rounded off by the singing of a Schubert quartet by a quartet of Freshmen.

Although the recital was successful, the committee in charge of the affair did not have the satisfaction of hearing some of the songs which were sung. The students do not seem to realize the importance of being punctual or of hearing the program. As a result, the committee finds its work neglected.

LITURGICAL SUPPLEMENT

THE RECITAL SATURDAY

It is unfortunate that more undergraduates were unable to attend the recital given by Mrs. Ross and Mr. Griffith last Saturday. Although quite a number of outsiders and members of the faculty were present, the list of a few names who wished to attend from being complete. The large presence of the Musical and Literary was not due to bad judgment or a lack of proper appreciation, but to the fact that the evening was too good to be passed over. The program was an excellent one. The entertainment opened with the appearance of B. G. F. Ashworth on the piano, playing a nocturne by Chopin. Miss Levin played "The Dreamer" by Hoffmann, while Miss H. E. Walker on the organ. The recital was rounded off by the singing of a Schubert quartet by a quartet of Freshmen.

Although the recital was successful, the committee in charge of the affair did not have the satisfaction of hearing some of the songs which were sung. The students do not seem to realize the importance of being punctual or of hearing the program. As a result, the committee finds its work neglected.

LITURGICAL SUPPLEMENT

THE RECITAL SATURDAY

It is unfortunate that more undergraduates were unable to attend the recital given by Mrs. Ross and Mr. Griffith last Saturday. Although quite a number of outsiders and members of the faculty were present, the list of a few names who wished to attend from being complete. The large presence of the Musical and Literary was not due to bad judgment or a lack of proper appreciation, but to the fact that the evening was too good to be passed over. The program was an excellent one. The entertainment opened with the appearance of B. G. F. Ashworth on the piano, playing a nocturne by Chopin. Miss Levin played "The Dreamer" by Hoffmann, while Miss H. E. Walker on the organ. The recital was rounded off by the singing of a Schubert quartet by a quartet of Freshmen.

Although the recital was successful, the committee in charge of the affair did not have the satisfaction of hearing some of the songs which were sung. The students do not seem to realize the importance of being punctual or of hearing the program. As a result, the committee finds its work neglected.