COMMUNICATION

To the Editor of THE TECH:
In the latest issue of THE TECH I saw an article entitled "For All the World's Affairs." I think it was written by Mr. Ward, and in communication January 26, 1923.

It is a good thing for Mr. Ward that I am not in the senior class of the present year. I have attended the senior class of the past two years, and I can tell you that, in my opinion, this is a very bad article.

The Faculty have signalized the importance of student government at Technology, and I have always been one of those who have thought that this is a good thing. But, in my opinion, this article is not very good.

The Faculty have also signalized the importance of student government at Technology, and I have always been one of those who have thought that this is a good thing. But, in my opinion, this article is not very good.

I do not doubt that all college men who write this article will be forced to admit that college songs and choirs are the real features in a collegiate life, but I do not think that they will be able to prove the point.

The world is changing, and I think that it is a good thing for Mr. Ward that he is not in the senior class of the present year. I have attended the senior class of the past two years, and I can tell you that, in my opinion, this is a very bad article.
