CLASS OFFICERS FORM COMMITTEE

Plan Proposed by R. P. Shaw, Senior President Put in
by Constitution

A new precedent was established in the history of student organization at Technology on Monday when a constitution was adopted by officers of the four classes, providing for the existence of a new committee, to be called, "The Interclass Executive Committee." Its purpose is to bring all the undergraduate classes into more intimate coordination and harmony, doing so by purely advisory methods.

The existence of such a committee was first proposed by R. P. Shaw '23, president of the Senior class, who suggested it at a meeting of the class presidents and executive committee-men about six weeks ago. The idea met with favor and a constitution was drawn up, which, in its final form, was adopted last Monday. According to it, " . . . the purpose of the Committee shall be:

- 1st. To unify the classes, separately and collectively.
  - 2nd. To discuss all class plans and policies.
  - 3rd. To discuss and advise the classes in the conduct of their various functions.
- It will act in a strictly advisory capacity. . . ."

Although the constitution has been accepted by the class presidents and Executive Committee men, who will comprise its membership, the organ-

The crowning of Technology's athletic endeavors for the year will be the award of all insignia to the various teams at the annual Insignia Award banquet which will be held in the main hall of Walker on May 9. Rockwell '96, another of the Institute's prominent athletic exponents, and of course Frank Kanaly, whose track team always forms a big part of the gathering.

All arrangements for the banquet have been in charge of A. P. Kellogg '24, publicity manager of the Association, who announces that the charge for the dinner will be $1.50.

Report Good Fishing on Massachusetts Ave.

It was observed that one of the members of the Junior class was fishing from a bucket at the corner of Commonwealth and Massachusetts avenues one afternoon last week. When asked his purpose he shook his head and with great effort drew in the line only to find the fish had gotten away, whereupon he determinedly cast is line in again and waited for another bite. Many passers-by bit.

Varsity Stars Will Shine for Classes on Track Friday

Expect Freshmen to Push Seniors in Interclass Athletic Contest

With a host of varsity stars, supported by a large number of men of equal merit who are ineligible for varsity competition, and egged on by a freshman team that has proved itself to be one of the best for many seasons, this year's spring interclass track meet, which will open Friday's contribution to the Junior Week list, promises to surpass all previous exhibitions in the way of intramural sports.

The regular schedule of track and field events will be run off starting promptly at 10:30 o'clock, and the inclusion of the interfraternity relay on the program has added considerable interest to an already interesting list of races.

Track Fine Now

The track is in fine shape now and the times turned in by the men should be better than those which have resulted so far. The competition will be keener, too, and every winner will have to do some tall running to leave the field in his specialty. The quarter mile promises to be one of the best races on the card, with Bill Gurney, Captain Art Smith, Glen Bateman and several other good men entered.

Elmer Sanborn and Bob Hendrie should have little trouble in collecting a couple firsts for the Seniors while the 1923 men should also collect.

DETAILS OF PROM PLANS COMPLETE

Committee Announces List of Patrons and Patronesses—
Arrange Supper

Beginning promptly at nine o'clock Friday evening and continuing through until 4 o'clock Saturday morning, Wittstien's collegiate orchestra from Hartford will furnish the music for the premier fete of the year, the Junior Prom. The dance order is long, containing twenty dances, and dinner will be served at 12:30 o'clock.

In order to facilitate the exchanging of dances the following card system will be used. Large initial cards will be hung alphabetically around the dancing floor. When a dance is to be exchanged the two couples will meet beneath the card bearing the initial of the man whose name is highest in the alphabet. After the dance, partners will be returned in the same manner to their original escorts.

Must Have Dinner Tickets

The committee requests that no flowers be worn at the Prom. The ballroom and foyer will be decorated with flowers. The committee states that no tickets will be sold at the door.

It is very important that the gentlemen not lose their supper tickets as no supper will be served without them as they will be collected before the supper. All supper rooms will have names posted at the doors of the various dining rooms and attendants will be on hand to direct the diners.

STUDENTS WILL GO INTO BATTLE WITH OIL, WATER, MOB

Movie Cameras Will Shoot Riot at Its Height—20 Paddles

TECHNIQUES DISTRIBUTED IN WALKER CHECK ROOM

Dr. Stratton Approves Activities of Junior Week—"Makes College Spirit"

Technology's annual Junior Week, jammed full of activity from Technique's first mysterious paddle to the final number of the Junior Prom, will begin in the Great Court at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, with the year book rush. Clustered about every event of the miniature "week" are some of the most precious traditions of the Institute, which are all the more valuable because they are so few.

Dr. S. W. Stratton said last night that he thought the idea of Junior Week was a very good one and that it would tend to develop college spirit among the boys.

Instructors at the Institute will find teaching in rooms overlooking the great court difficult this morning, for the attention of their classes will be distracted by the first physical evidence of the approach of Junior Week, the erection of the Technique Rush hut. The inside men on the Technique Board promise a hot reception for the contenders in the struggle which will open the Junior Week events, but they decline to give any hint on what to expect.

Will Take Movies

Last year the slippery roof of the hut was liberally greased, and the oncoming men met with a deluge of water, icy cold alternated with steaming hot. The first paddle, which bore a decided resemblance to a tennis ball, suddenly appeared in the air over the expectant mob, ejected from the mouth of the Snique dragon.

The first paddle is always made to appear in some mysterious manner, and this year will be no exception, says the board. This first paddle has been variously a cannonball, a greased pig, and the tennis ball, and has been dropped from an airplane and shot over the Institute from a

ALUMNI HERE FOR TONIGHT'S CIRCUS

Unsubstantiated Rumor Says
Prominent Graduates to Race Chariots

Tonight the undergraduates are to sell themselves to the alumni, figuratively, by means of a circus similar to the one that was put on in March. Although many of the students are taking part it is in charge of a committee of the alumni.

A two ring performance is to be run with one operating in the gym and the other in the main hall. The shows will be repeated, however, so that all may have an opportunity to see both exhibitions. The fencing and wrestling teams will exhibit in the main hall while the boxing and gym teams will have the top floor. The exhibits will be put on in two parts to accord with the policy of two shows. Crew movies will also be shown twice.
