TENNIS PLAYERS LOSE OPENER TO HARVARD GRADS

Russell and McWane Come From Behind and Win Their Doubles Match

HARVARD PLAYERS MAKE CLEAN SWEEP OF SINGLES

Herndon of Harvard Defeats Capt. Tremaine in Hard Fought Match

In the opening tennis match of the season the varsity players were forced to bow down to the Harvard Graduates School team on the courts of the Longwood Club yesterday afternoon by the score of 5-1. The crimson team proved superior in practically all the contests, although they had to put up a fight for their victory. The Engineers were victorious in one of the doubles, Russell and McWane beating Stevens and Bradley, after coming from behind in fine fashion and taking the two deciding sets after losing the first.

The matches proved to be a contest between veteran players for the Crimson team and a newly formed combination for Technology. The Engineers playing gave great promise for future development but experience of the Harvard men carried them through for a win.

Harvard Takes Singles

The crimson team made a clean sweep of the single matches. Captain Tremaine of the Engineers clashed with Herndon, Harvard's first man. Herndon had it all his own way the first set as he came through with a love set, allowing Tremaine no games. In the second set the Technology Captain got under way and got four games on his opponent but Herndon finally took the set by the count of 6-4. Herndon plays a mighty fast game of tennis and is an old hand at the game, as he was on the Harvard varsity team last year. Captain Tremaine showed his ability to rally but was unable to overcome the Crimson man's lead.

Tressell took on Bundy in the second single matches and lost in two sets, the score being 6-3 and 6-4. Bundy exhibited a fast service throughout. He also is a veteran player as he captained the Yale tennis team when he was at New Haven. Both these men played against the Engineers last year.

In the third singles Harris for Technology forced Stevens to go a 7-5 set for the first one, but weakened in the next as the Harvard man came away with a 61 decision. The last singles contest proved to be a fairly even match but Bradley of Harvard had the edge at the end, taking two sets 6-4 and 6-4.

Veteran Team for Harvard

Both the last two ranking men on the Harvard squad were on the Varsity team last year, so in combination with Herndon and Bundy of the Graduates School, the crimson present an especially strong front. Last year the Engineers were able to secure a 4-2 decision but a veteran team represented the Institute.

The doubles matches were the most interesting contests to watch as the second one provided plenty of action and fast playing.

Frosh Track Meet at Worcester Tomorrow

While the Varsity is travelling in the wilds of Maine, the frosh journey out to Worcester tomorrow afternoon to tackle the Worcester Academy lads on the cinders. About twenty-five men are making the trip.

The frosh team this year is reputed to be the strongest at the Institute for many years. If they live up to their reputation, they ought to make the Academy boys step to beat them. Worcester is usually represented by a strong track team and reports are that this year is no exception. The frosh have some mighty good stepers, however, and are going out to beat the Worcester outfit.

Juniors Meet Frosh Tomorrow

In their second game this week the Junior team plays the frosh outfit tomorrow. The Juniors are going strong and the frosh will have to show a fast line of ball to take them into camp. The freshmen have lost their first two games and they will be working hard to get a win over the '24 team. The Juniors have won their games and they seem to have hit their batting stride which means that they are going to give the rest of the teams a stiff battle for the cup.

Juniors Humble Senior Ball Team in Game Featured by Hitting

Shorty Manning Hits Homer and Makes an Unassisted Double Play

Coupling fine fielding and heavy hitting the Junior baseball team defeated the Senior aggregation 8 to 3, Wednesday afternoon. Shorty Manning starred for the Juniors and made the first unassisted double play of the season and finished off the afternoon with a home run. The Juniors held the '23 team scoreless until the seventh inning when the Seniors with the aid of two errors drove in three runs.

Fitzgerald started for the '24 team and was effective against the Seniors. He was wild in the opening frame and passed two men, but he steadied down and held them tight. Kennett went in in the fifth and was not as effective as Fitzgerald. Bob Hull was on the mound for the Seniors and was touched for a good many hits by the Juniors.

In the first inning Mann led off for the '23 team and was retired by Fitzgerald. The next two men were passed and chances seemed good for a run but the '24 pitcher tightened up and struck out the next batter and he scooped up Barker's grounder for the third out.

Manning led off for the Juniors and was out on a fly to left. Canfield drew a base on balls and made second on a wild throw. Mich fanned and Bates made second on a fielder's choice when he hit to left and brought in Canfield for the first run. Walterskirchen hit a grounder to Walt Metcalf and made the third out.

In the second inning Frank Knight made a two bagger over third base. Adams drove a hot liner that was labelled for a base-hit to the right of second that Manning stabbed in a peach of a play and then stepped on second for a neat double. Hassler grounded to Fitzgerald.

Kennett started in the box in the fifth for the Juniors and passed Knight the first batter. Adams hit a grounder to Walterskirchen and he threw to second, catching Knight at the bag. Kelly who was batting for Hassler struck out. Michelena, leading off in the fifth for the '24 team, was given a walk by Hull. Bates was safe at first when Walt Metcalf missed a low liner. Walterskirchen hit a fast grounder through second and brought in Mich and Earl Bates. Walterskirchen stole third and came in when Kennett laid down a slow bunt to third and was safe on first. Giles made first on a grounder to the pitcher. Daly, next at bat, hit an infield fly which ruled him out as first and second were occupied.

Walt Metcalf and Barker went after the fly and bumped and they lost it. Kennett ran to third and Hull did a track stunt after him and tagged him out when he overslid the bag. The question came up that as it was an infield fly Kennett could not be out because the ball was dead. After much argument Kennett was called out.

Manning Hits Homer

In the sixth the Seniors touched Kennett for a fly only and he struck out Mann, and Walt Metcalf replaced Hull in the box and Sullivan came in to short. Shorty Manning started off the sixth auspiciously for the Juniors by driving out a home run over the centerfielder's head. Robinson hit to left and was advanced when Piland, batting for Mich, bunted. Robertson stole third but was left there. Bates fled out to Capt. Bill. Robertson attempted to steal home, but was caught at the plate by Kenney.

Seniors Score Three in Seventh

The Seniors got going in the seventh and made three runs. Sambo Gordon drove out a long fly to center that Robinson pulled down. Ken-

STONE SCHOOL DEFEATS FRESHMEN ON RIVER

Stone School is building up quite a reputation for itself on the river this season. Rowing against the Institute's first freshman eight yesterday afternoon, the Stone oarsmen repeated their performance of last week, when they won over both the 150 pound shells.

Starting the mile and five-sixteenths Henley distance at Cottage Farm Bridge, both boats got away to good starts. The more powerful Stone outfit soon began to make their long strokes tell, however, and before reaching Harvard bridge, had opened a lead of several lengths on the Technology boat.

From the bridge on the frosh were not in the running, but stuck grimly on, crossing the finish line four and a quarter lengths behind. The time of the winning boat could not be had, but that of the 1926 shell was 7 minutes, 51 seconds.

ney hit a fast one between third and short and he made second when Barker was passed. Frank Knight could not connect and was retired. Sullivan drove a wicked liner down to third base that bounced off Barker's knee, and Kenney and Barker came in. Kelly made first on an error by Bates and this brought in Sullivan for the last score. Hull hit a grounder to third and the game was over because the Juniors did not bat.

RUNNERS WILL FACE HAMPERED MAINE TEAM

Maine half-milers, Murray and O'Connor fill the supporting roles in the battle for 880 honors.

Raymond Star Miler

Another cross country star, Raymond, who was sixth in the title run last fall, looks like the choice in the mile. University experts are all on edge for the sure-fire scrap between Raymond and Technology's Sanborn. Ames and Ridmon are also entered.

Just to make it almost unanimous in the running events another harrier flyer, McKeeman comes to the fore in the two mile. He will have a chance to even things with Robert Hendrie, but according to reports from Cambridge, will be stepping if he trims the M. I. T. man. Hillman and Noyen will take part in the battle for second place.

Hurdlers Not Exceptional

Henderson, True and Ring will do Maine's high hurdling while the low barriers are to be dusted by Murray, Dunn, and Miles Standish. Unless the visitors are weak at hurdling little scoring is expected.

In the jumps, Ackley is the favored leaper for height, while Doerr draws the call in the broad. Blumer and Giddings complete the high jumping squad. Fraser and Lawry, the sprinter, will help out in the broad.

One of the University's best bets provided a somewhat erratic fresh man, comes through is the shot put. Jackson has been tossing the weight 42 feet, and that should be good for a score, even in good company. If Jackson has a bad day Hollins and Elliott will come to the rescue.

The track team leaves this morning on the first of its trips this season. University of Maine is its objective and the Engineers will race the Pine Tree starters in a dual meet at Orono tomorrow afternoon.

The Maine meet is the first outside meet of the season and the team is all set to bring home a victory to start the season off right. The talent that was uncovered at the Interclass games last Friday will have its first chance to show how it compares with outside schools and all the men are confident that they will be able to bring home the bacon.

First Meeting with Maine

Maine is a newcomer on the Institute dual meet schedule, taking the place that has been in the past occupied by the Navy. The trip to Orono is much shorter than the Annapolis trip, however, so the new opponent will allow a few more men to be taken. Even with the shorter trip, there are still many men who cannot be taken as the number is limited to twenty-two. These twenty-two men will take care of the assignment in their best form, however, and ought to score many points.

Eddie Heap and Porter will take care of the dashes for the Engineer

22 Engineers Who Open Against Maine

Here are the men who will wear the Cardinal and Gray against the Maine runners tomorrow afternoon at Orono, and the events they will compete in:

- Captain Art Smith, quarter mile
- Eddie Heap, dashes and broad jump
- Al Stewart, broad jump
- Lou Porter, dashes
- Bill Gurney, quarter, 220 and broad jump
- Charlie Snow, half mile
- Glen Bateman, half mile
- Elmer Sanborn, mile run
- Bob Hendrie, two mile run
- Frank Bemis, two mile run
- Emmons Blodgett, hurdles
- Howard Dexter, shot put, hammer, and hurdles
- Russ Ambach, hurdles
- Bob Hershey, hurdles
- Bill Greenough, high jump
- Ed McArdle, high jump
- Phil Stearns, pole vault
- Pete Shipley, shot put
- Chink Drew, hammer
- Tom Garrard, javelin
- Dick Tyron, discus
- Leo Poor, mile run

outfit and with these two men in good form, the Maine boys will have to step to beat them. Captain Art Smith and Bill Gurney will run the quarter and from Captain Art's performance in the Interclass games, it looks as if he were good for a win in this event. Gurney is also going well and ought to place.

Howard Dexter will have his hands full as usual, as he is entered in the hammer and shot put and will probably also run the high hurdles. Dexter is an all round star and is good for points in all of his events. He will get good backing in the weight events from Chink Drew and Pete Shipley. The Engineers are well fixed in the hammer and shot and if the rest of the field event men come through with some good performances, the score ought to be on the right side of the line at the finish. Garrard is good for a place in the javelin, while McArdle, Bill Greenough and Stearns ought to garner a few points in the high jump and pole vault respectively.

Sanborn and Hendrie Face Strength
The distance events are where Maine is reputed to be strongest. However, as far as the Engineers are concerned, the Institute could not be classified as weak in these events with men like Elmer Sanborn and Bob Hendrie running for them. Bob has been going strong in the longer distance and all indications are that he will return a winner. Elmer also looks like the class of the field and will force anyone that beats him to go the limit. The hurdles ought to add a few more points to the fastitude side of the ledger. Last week in the Interclass games the Tech Field record for the high hurdles was broken but the record was not allowed on account of the wind. In spite of this fact, the time was fast and the men representing the Engineers ought to do well against competitors. Taken as a whole, the team is well balanced and ought to cop the prize.
