SOW FOR OTHERS TO REAP

TOMORROW the election controversy comes before the Institute Committee for final settlement. To the Juniors, class more than any other, that settlement is highly important. Their "officers and men" are all of them, in one way or another, the creating year and it is imperative that the class as a whole be satisfied. The duty of those whose_BC_ interest is advisable.

The successful administration of Institute government requires, if not actual cooperation from the students, at least their acquiescence. To ratify the elections in the face of opposition would be either ignobly or justly, that the government has the power to do this but the Juniors will suffer if it.

There is some opposition to Institute Committee action on an Honor System, based on the premise that the matter is outside of the Committee's sphere. It is not generally known, but three years ago an Honor System resolution for the entire school was introduced. The Committee then declined to act, presumably because of the reluctance of the Juniors to "work." If a similar action for the present question should be directed towards the end suggested three years ago, the opponents of placing the decision before it may be justified. But if it is felt that the matter is one within the Committee's sphere, then the opposition is without prejudice and should be revised. The Committee is an Institute governing and legislative body. As such it is vitally interested in all things reflecting on the name of the Institute and student conduct and welfare. An Honor System is associated with all the requisites of Committee Interest.

Since the Honor System has been tried out on the plan of course units, allowing each course to have its separate governing body, and since the men in the same courses are more likely to be interested in the conduct of their course than the student body, it would seem that the Committee Interest is not presently very visible and should be revised. SOPHOMORES, WAKE UP

WITH the Richard's Cup race only three days off the Student Cup race is in full swing. It is this week so pressing that at least eight of those men who have been morning runners get cut for the morning periods and when we start off on Saturday... the contest doesn't call for great technique. Skilled ears can recognize, as members of regular Institute crews, 1923 being represented eight on the field. A little mention of the kind of spirit that put a 1923 nine in the race last year, the Richard's Cup could push eight on the river; one that would have a good chance of winning if the river is at all against us. 1923 does have good work for intercollegiate athletics, it would be unfortunate to enter a clash for its last mark in the regatta. Get out there and fight.

Chinese Students Strike

Stikes in the colleges of China have become one of the common sights of the student. They have no definite purpose but are always an expression of discontent. Chinese students are protest against the Central Government. A large number of students have decided to strike as a means of protest. The strike began on Friday, April 27th, and is expected to continue until a few days after May 1st. The students are demanding better educational facilities and greater independence for China. The government has announced that it will not grant the demands of the students.

Ability Creates Fund

The executive committee and individual members of the Young Men's Union have been working for some time on the establishment of a fund to help underprivileged students. The committee has been successful in raising a substantial amount of money, and the fund is now well on its way to becoming a reality. The fund will be used to provide scholarships for students who are in need of financial assistance.
