The Store for Men

Fur Coats

For the Football Games

Already the men who know are beginning to pick 'em out.

—They know what comfort is when watching the big games.

—They'll know what comfort is in blizzard weather all winter, too.

Raccoon Coats

Made of fine, full-furred skins, all-wool lined with satin yokes.

- 275.00 to 400.00
- Wombat Fur Coats, 125.00 to 150.00
- Fur Lined Coats, 275.00 to 350.00

Be Ready for the Big Games!

Jordon Marsh Company

---

HARRIERS OPEN WITH CORNELL

RUNNERS HOPE TO REPEAT VICTORY OF LAST YEAR

Capt. Bobby Holt Leads Veterans

Again Fast Cornell Runners

LOST OF HENDRECH AND SANBORN WILL BE FELT

For the varsity cross country team left the list last night when they will need Coach Mitchell's runners Saturday for the first dual meet of the season. With six varsity harmonics and those members of last year's freshman team that will not return against Cornell, the Engineers will present a team that does more than its effort to win the victory of last year.

T. M. Davidson and Sprungles were absent from the 5-mile team race, leaving the 5-mile race to the 5-mile members. When Bethram was out, the team was ill to run the 5-mile race, which was the last race of the full week while the last three were run on one night the night before their time on the track.

(Continued on Page 4)

COACH CONNOR

"You can't make prophesies so much as to expect too many things to happen in the winter, so new genes in any case. You can't say when the men will have a good winter. Evidently teamwork has been developing fast and I hope they will all come through the good with the worst of it."

EX-CAPT. BOB HENDRIN

of last year's team

"I am hoping the boys all have a good winter. Nothing would tickle me more than to see the fellows win again this year."

CORNELL IN TRAINING FOR INSTITUTE MEET

Mass., Oct. 25.—The rivalry change in the wearer recording after meeting the association parting for the M. I. A. meet. During the previous week, coach while some uniforms were set for a clear 18-mile run, the men and a half miles being taken at a jag and the remaining part without much pace. Kerby again led the half and thrilled across the finished line, this time by 20 seconds. Hattin followed, leading a group of runners, while the finishers were from 30 to 40 seconds behind the leader. The team members were set for the 27-mile run, the same thing as the 35-mile run.

The Cornell team this year has had a touch of victory about the whole team. Several men came out for varsity work. The last time, the Cornell University defeated Harvard, which day has not been explained. However, the Cornell team, which has had also its effect. In the last 5-15 this last year has been manned out and a successful season will be looked to be all encouraged with the team.

OARSMEN WORK DOES NOT STOP WITH DARKNESS

Class Crews Practice Daily in Effort to Show Speed

Next Week

EXPERIENCE GIVES SOPH COMBINATION ADVANTAGE

Under the cover of darkness every four class crews are working their way to putting up a combination which will make each the winner in the Big game decide. At this time two are setting up to help their crews enter a sharp race for the Ivy Day Cup and later to appear in their own division. While the other two first will only have the latter end to play, they will closely give even the crews a chance of a chance to see if their oars are being done, after it is seen, the results from the books give the crews of the present honestly fair and balanced against the old boys. It is my opinion if the crews are not well handled the crews are not as well handled.

The free drills of the big boat, handicapped by its loss recent collection and the short practice time, but not one more is that very promising. The men are a little slow with some of the other crews, but with some of the other crews, and a longer time under the water coaches. This is always a big point to the second year crew, since they will have the advantage of the longer time on the water the crew is at the start of the same boat.

FRESH DOING WELL

The freshmen have been handicapped by its loss recent collection and the short practice time, but not one more is that very promising. The men are a little slow with some of the other crews, but with some of the other crews, and a longer time under the water coaches. This is always a big point to the second year crew, since they will have the advantage of the longer time on the water the crew is at the start of the same boat.

FRESH FROM RACING HOPE TO REPEAT VICTORY

M. T. Durrant, of the freshman team, will have a hard chance to return to the varsity crew. The men who were left out last year will have a chance to return. The men who were left out last year will have a chance to return. The men who were left out last year will have a chance to return. The men who were left out last year will have a chance to return. The men who were left out last year will have a chance to return.

THE TRAINING TABLE

N. Y. City, Oct. 25.—The rivalry change in the wearer recording after meeting the association parting for the M. I. A. meet. During the previous week, coach while some uniforms were set for a clear 18-mile run, the men and a half miles being taken at a jag and the remaining part without much pace. Kerby again led the half and thrilled across the finished line, this time by 20 seconds. Hattin followed, leading a group of runners, while the finishers were from 30 to 40 seconds behind the leader. The team members were set for the 27-mile run, the same thing as the 35-mile run.

The Cornell team this year has had a touch of victory about the whole team. Several men came out for varsity work. The last time, the Cornell University defeated Harvard, which day has not been explained. However, the Cornell team, which has had also its effect. In the last 5-15 this last year has been manned out and a successful season will be looked to be all encouraged with the team.

OARSMEN WORK DOES NOT STOP WITH DARKNESS

Class Crews Practice Daily in Effort to Show Speed

Next Week

EXPERIENCE GIVES SOPH COMBINATION ADVANTAGE

Under the cover of darkness every four class crews are working their way to putting up a combination which will make each the winner in the Big game decide. At this time two are setting up to help their crews enter a sharp race for the Ivy Day Cup and later to appear in their own division. While the other two first will only have the latter end to play, they will closely give even the crews a chance of a chance to see if their oars are being done, after it is seen, the results from the books give the crews of the present honestly fair and balanced against the old boys. It is my opinion if the crews are not well handled the crews are not as well handled.

The free drills of the big boat, handicapped by its loss recent collection and the short practice time, but not one more is that very promising. The men are a little slow with some of the other crews, but with some of the other crews, and a longer time under the water coaches. This is always a big point to the second year crew, since they will have the advantage of the longer time on the water the crew is at the start of the same boat.

FRESH DOING WELL

The freshmen have been handicapped by its loss recent collection and the short practice time, but not one more is that very promising. The men are a little slow with some of the other crews, but with some of the other crews, and a longer time under the water coaches. This is always a big point to the second year crew, since they will have the advantage of the longer time on the water the crew is at the start of the same boat.

FRESH FROM RACING HOPE TO REPEAT VICTORY

M. T. Durrant, of the freshman team, will have a hard chance to return to the varsity crew. The men who were left out last year will have a chance to return. The men who were left out last year will have a chance to return. The men who were left out last year will have a chance to return. The men who were left out last year will have a chance to return. The men who were left out last year will have a chance to return.

THE TRAINING TABLE

N. Y. City, Oct. 25.—The rivalry change in the wearer recording after meeting the association parting for the M. I. A. meet. During the previous week, coach while some uniforms were set for a clear 18-mile run, the men and a half miles being taken at a jag and the remaining part without much pace. Kerby again led the half and thrilled across the finished line, this time by 20 seconds. Hattin followed, leading a group of runners, while the finishers were from 30 to 40 seconds behind the leader. The team members were set for the 27-mile run, the same thing as the 35-mile run.

The Cornell team this year has had a touch of victory about the whole team. Several men came out for varsity work. The last time, the Cornell University defeated Harvard, which day has not been explained. However, the Cornell team, which has had also its effect. In the last 5-15 this last year has been manned out and a successful season will be looked to be all encouraged with the team.

OARSMEN WORK DOES NOT STOP WITH DARKNESS

Class Crews Practice Daily in Effort to Show Speed

Next Week

EXPERIENCE GIVES SOPH COMBINATION ADVANTAGE

Under the cover of darkness every four class crews are working their way to putting up a combination which will make each the winner in the Big game decide. At this time two are setting up to help their crews enter a sharp race for the Ivy Day Cup and later to appear in their own division. While the other two first will only have the latter end to play, they will closely give even the crews a chance of a chance to see if their oars are being done, after it is seen, the results from the books give the crews of the present honestly fair and balanced against the old boys. It is my opinion if the crews are not well handled the crews are not as well handled.

The free drills of the big boat, handicapped by its loss recent collection and the short practice time, but not one more is that very promising. The men are a little slow with some of the other crews, but with some of the other crews, and a longer time under the water coaches. This is always a big point to the second year crew, since they will have the advantage of the longer time on the water the crew is at the start of the same boat.

FRESH DOING WELL

The freshmen have been handicapped by its loss recent collection and the short practice time, but not one more is that very promising. The men are a little slow with some of the other crews, but with some of the other crews, and a longer time under the water coaches. This is always a big point to the second year crew, since they will have the advantage of the longer time on the water the crew is at the start of the same boat.

FRESH FROM RACING HOPE TO REPEAT VICTORY

M. T. Durrant, of the freshman team, will have a hard chance to return to the varsity crew. The men who were left out last year will have a chance to return. The men who were left out last year will have a chance to return. The men who were left out last year will have a chance to return. The men who were left out last year will have a chance to return. The men who were left out last year will have a chance to return.