CLASSIC BASEBALL CALLS
OUT MANY CANDIDATES

The first game of the year was played by the reservists on Friday and the new season will open on January 21. This will be the first time in years that there will be no game in Boston. The new team will consist of many of the old players, including some who have been away for a long time. The games will be played on the rooftops of some of the buildings in the city. The weather was cold and unpleasant, but the players were determined to have a good game. The crowd was large and enthusiastic, and the game was well attended. It is likely that this will be the first of many games to be played in the city this winter.
