TECHNOLOGY SENDS LARGE DELEGATION TO N. Y. CONCLAVE

Twenty-Seven Men Now Enrolled to Represent Institute at Silver Bay

GROUP LEAVES THURSDAY

Will Discuss Religious, Social and College Problems at Silver Bay

Technology will send to the annual convention of the United Methodist Church at Silver Bay on Lake George, the largest delegation that it has yet represented, with the exception of one year, Twenty-seven men, commercial and professional, most of them new, are now enrolled in the delegation.

Although the work of the conference is fundamentally religious, it takes up social and industrial national problems, and many subjects of which churchmen are usually not aware.

Religious barriers to the accomplishment of this conference will be removed for conferences on various phases of social and industrial work. Groups of men and women from the same communities, a group at a time, will hear great leaders talk on subjects and problems which they are likely to face in the future. A group at a time means that the large mass of the population will have an opportunity to bring forward the ideas and ideals that will be necessary to the advancement of the church and the nation.

The convention, which opens tomorrow, will last until Sunday. About 3,000 delegates are expected to be present, and the convention will be opened by the Rt. Rev. W. C. McVickar, Bishop of the New York Conference of the Methodist Church, who will give an address on "Social and Industrial Relations." He is expected to touch on the subject of industrial relations from the point of view of the Methodist Episcopal Church and its relation to social and industrial problems.

The convention will be of great interest to those who are interested in the problems of social and industrial relations.

The convention will be a great social event, and will provide an excellent opportunity for the discussion of important questions of the day.

The convention will be of great interest to all who are interested in the problems of social and industrial relations.
