THE STUDENT TAX

One of the two main things that were done at the Institute Commitee meeting last night was the reapportoinment of the Student Body. As it was done, the only changes are to cut down the amount of the student activities and the reserve fund, and to put the amount that is to be incurred in this manner into the coffers of the Athletic Association. Everybody will agree, however, that the Institute committee has done what it can that they can get hold of. The support that they receive from the students is not as large as it should be, but it is enough to keep the whole thing going on. They are not too bad at best, and anything that can be logical is worth doing. When the call comes in a few weeks, give all you possibly can to these two causes.

The Lounger has received another dispute from the student government, and it is being handled in the proper manner by the proper authorities to inform the proper authorities.

COMMUNICATION

To the Editor:

The fact that only 12 per cent of the total votes cast a ballot in the recent student vote held by your paper would indicate a lack of interest in the undergraduates to the present campus political situation. We are certain, however, that this group of undergraduates is interested, namely the LaFollette Club. Believing that this is the most vital political campaign which has been waged in our campus history, we urge everyone who is interested in changing a new political era to our nation's politics, and further believing that every effort should be made to stir up interest in the campaign among the student body, the LaFollette Club of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology to organize such interest hereby issues this challenge to any student or political organization in the Institute or in greater Boston to a primary or sectional campaign. It is willing to debate and to discuss any issues that may be raised, to follow the path than it does to cut across, but the slight added importance will go for naught if a few hundred vandals take a notion to walk across it on a wet day. Out of respect for the appearance of the Institute, every student should make certain that he is not responsible for any damage to the grounds that he may cause. In the words of the President of the Students' Union, "If you see a bedraggled, run-down patch, it doesn't get into six point and out, don't let it go to it.

THE COMBINED DRIVE

When it was definitely decided by the student government that a Combined Drive for Charities will be held this fall at the Institute, it remains to look into this drive and find out how worthy it is. The two bodies of the money realized in this campaign are the Technology Christian Children's Fund and the American Red Cross. No student at the Institute will question the worthiness of the latter. The amount of help that it gives to new students and old, foreign students and native, each year, can be calculated in dollars and cents. The vote registry list is above of sufficient value to warrant the small donations that we are asked to give every year. When the Book Exchange, "Fashions Bible," the Book Store, and the other service bureaus are working, they are really worthy of the full financial support of every student.

The American Red Cross needs no defense. The good that it does perhaps is not felt as closely by the students here, but nevertheless, it is just as real. When the call comes in a few weeks, give all you possibly can to these two causes.

HELP SAVE THE GRASS

If you could invest the Institute $5000 this summer to lay out the lawn in the front of the great court, and from the amount of favorable comment on the improved appearance of the buildings, it was $5000 worth. The towel of green contrasting with the white buildings, removed the dead look they previously presented.

The little things, just as important as any, is the beginning to get well rooted, worn spots appear around the paths, and especially at intersections where the corners. It doesn't take much time to follow the path that is getting worst, but the added effort makes the difference between a beautiful, well-kept lawn and a bedraggled, run-down patch. It is impossible for the gardeners to preserve the lawn without the cooperation of every one at the Institute. No matter how much the lawn they import, how carefully they roll and water it, their efforts are in vain if the students don't take a notion to walk across it on a wet day. Out of respect for the appearance of the Institute, every student should make certain that he is not responsible for any damage to the grounds that he may cause.

DIAL-TWISTERS MAY GET EDU-DICTION

One of the two main things that were done at the Institute Committee meeting last night was the reapportoinment of the Student Body. As it was done, the only changes are to cut down the amount of the student activities and the reserve fund, and to put the amount that is to be incurred in this manner into the coffers of the Athletic Association. Everybody will agree, however, that the Institute committee has done what it can that they can get hold of. The support that they receive from the student government is not as large as it should be, but it is enough to keep the whole thing going. They are not too bad at best, and anything that can be logical is worth doing. When the call comes in a few weeks, give all you possibly can to these two causes.

The Coats are plain backs, and models with a slight added importance will go for naught if a few hundred vandals take a notion to walk across it on a wet day. Out of respect for the appearance of the Institute, every student should make certain that he is not responsible for any damage to the grounds that he may cause.

SAVE THE GRASS

If you could invest the Institute $5000 this summer to lay out the lawn in the front of the great court, and from the amount of favorable comment on the improved appearance of the buildings, it was $5000 worth. The towel of green contrasting with the white buildings, removed the dead look they previously presented.

The little things, just as important as any, is the beginning to get well rooted, worn spots appear around the paths, and especially at intersections where the corners. It doesn't take much time to follow the path that is getting worst, but the added effort makes the difference between a beautiful, well-kept lawn and a bedraggled, run-down patch. It is impossible for the gardeners to preserve the lawn without the cooperation of every one at the Institute. No matter how much the lawn they import, how carefully they roll and water it, their efforts are in vain if the students don't take a notion to walk across it on a wet day. Out of respect for the appearance of the Institute, every student should make certain that he is not responsible for any damage to the grounds that he may cause.

DIAL-TWISTERS MAY GET EDU-DICTION

One of the two main things that were done at the Institute Committee meeting last night was the reapportoinment of the Student Body. As it was done, the only changes are to cut down the amount of the student activities and the reserve fund, and to put the amount that is to be incurred in this manner into the coffers of the Athletic Association. Everybody will agree, however, that the Institute committee has done what it can that they can get hold of. The support that they receive from the student government is not as large as it should be, but it is enough to keep the whole thing going. They are not too bad at best, and anything that can be logical is worth doing. When the call comes in a few weeks, give all you possibly can to these two causes.

The Coats are plain backs, and models with a slight added importance will go for naught if a few hundred vandals take a notion to walk across it on a wet day. Out of respect for the appearance of the Institute, every student should make certain that he is not responsible for any damage to the grounds that he may cause.

SAVE THE GRASS

If you could invest the Institute $5000 this summer to lay out the lawn in the front of the great court, and from the amount of favorable comment on the improved appearance of the buildings, it was $5000 worth. The towel of green contrasting with the white buildings, removed the dead look they previously presented.

The little things, just as important as any, is the beginning to get well rooted, worn spots appear around the paths, and especially at intersections where the corners. It doesn't take much time to follow the path that is getting worst, but the added effort makes the difference between a beautiful, well-kept lawn and a bedraggled, run-down patch. It is impossible for the gardeners to preserve the lawn without the cooperation of every one at the Institute. No matter how much the lawn they import, how carefully they roll and water it, their efforts are in vain if the students don't take a notion to walk across it on a wet day. Out of respect for the appearance of the Institute, every student should make certain that he is not responsible for any damage to the grounds that he may cause.

DIAL-TWISTERS MAY GET EDU-DICTION

One of the two main things that were done at the Institute Committee meeting last night was the reapportoinment of the Student Body. As it was done, the only changes are to cut down the amount of the student activities and the reserve fund, and to put the amount that is to be incurred in this manner into the coffers of the Athletic Association. Everybody will agree, however, that the Institute committee has done what it can that they can get hold of. The support that they receive from the student government is not as large as it should be, but it is enough to keep the whole thing going. They are not too bad at best, and anything that can be logical is worth doing. When the call comes in a few weeks, give all you possibly can to these two causes.

The Coats are plain backs, and models with a slight added importance will go for naught if a few hundred vandals take a notion to walk across it on a wet day. Out of respect for the appearance of the Institute, every student should make certain that he is not responsible for any damage to the grounds that he may cause.

SAVE THE GRASS

If you could invest the Institute $5000 this summer to lay out the lawn in the front of the great court, and from the amount of favorable comment on the improved appearance of the buildings, it was $5000 worth. The towel of green contrasting with the white buildings, removed the dead look they previously presented.

The little things, just as important as any, is the beginning to get well rooted, worn spots appear around the paths, and especially at intersections where the corners. It doesn't take much time to follow the path that is getting worst, but the added effort makes the difference between a beautiful, well-kept lawn and a bedraggled, run-down patch. It is impossible for the gardeners to preserve the lawn without the cooperation of every one at the Institute. No matter how much the lawn they import, how carefully they roll and water it, their efforts are in vain if the students don't take a notion to walk across it on a wet day. Out of respect for the appearance of the Institute, every student should make certain that he is not responsible for any damage to the grounds that he may cause.