POWER TRANSMISSION LECTURE POSTPONED

Some of the more elaborate entries were those of fully two and three layer, metal and iron wire, and perspex and metal wire. Several of the men who had constructed their models with great ingenuity and care showed nothing but the wires when they were asked in the offices to collect their models. Students in the evening classes are finding this a fascinating hobby, and are making excellent models, attested to by the large number of interest cards received.
