President Advises More Talks
For All Classes By Men
In Class To Attend The

"...I believe the students ought to be given opportunities to hear more talks about the fine points of life..." said President S. W. Stratton, chairman of the Presidents Committee on Entrance Facilities.

He said he was glad to hear that Dr. Stratton's talk would deal with the question of 'Should we have more talks?'

He added that the committee was impressed with the feeling that the students would like to have more talks and that the students would like to have more talks with the cooperation of the faculty.

Many of the students expressed the feeling that the institution was a place where they could find a lot of serious thinking that would be helpful to them.

The students were also to be given an opportunity to hear talks on a variety of subjects, including the effects of the war on the economy, the importance of studying the British Empire and the future of the United States.

The committee also suggested that the students be given an opportunity to hear talks on the effects of the war on the economy, the importance of studying the British Empire and the future of the United States.

Dr. Stratton urged all the members of the school, and to hear outside lecturers who will broaden their viewpoints. To do this end, we have introduced lecture classes and group singing by all those participating.

Dr. Stratton also recommended that the undergraduate bodies be given an opportunity to deliver their speeches to the students.

"...I believe the students ought to be given opportunities to hear more talks about the fine points of life..." said President S. W. Stratton, chairman of the Presidents Committee on Entrance Facilities.

He said he was glad to hear that Dr. Stratton's talk would deal with the question of 'Should we have more talks?'

He added that the committee was impressed with the feeling that the students would like to have more talks and that the students would like to have more talks with the cooperation of the faculty.

Many of the students expressed the feeling that the institution was a place where they could find a lot of serious thinking that would be helpful to them.

The students were also to be given an opportunity to hear talks on a variety of subjects, including the effects of the war on the economy, the importance of studying the British Empire and the future of the United States.

The committee also suggested that the students be given an opportunity to hear talks on the effects of the war on the economy, the importance of studying the British Empire and the future of the United States.

Dr. Stratton urged all the members of the school, and to hear outside lecturers who will broaden their viewpoints. To do this end, we have introduced lecture classes and group singing by all those participating.

Dr. Stratton also recommended that the undergraduate bodies be given an opportunity to deliver their speeches to the students.

"...I believe the students ought to be given opportunities to hear more talks about the fine points of life..." said President S. W. Stratton, chairman of the Presidents Committee on Entrance Facilities.

He said he was glad to hear that Dr. Stratton's talk would deal with the question of 'Should we have more talks?'

He added that the committee was impressed with the feeling that the students would like to have more talks and that the students would like to have more talks with the cooperation of the faculty.

Many of the students expressed the feeling that the institution was a place where they could find a lot of serious thinking that would be helpful to them.

The students were also to be given an opportunity to hear talks on a variety of subjects, including the effects of the war on the economy, the importance of studying the British Empire and the future of the United States.

The committee also suggested that the students be given an opportunity to hear talks on the effects of the war on the economy, the importance of studying the British Empire and the future of the United States.

Dr. Stratton urged all the members of the school, and to hear outside lecturers who will broaden their viewpoints. To do this end, we have introduced lecture classes and group singing by all those participating.

Dr. Stratton also recommended that the undergraduate bodies be given an opportunity to deliver their speeches to the students.

"...I believe the students ought to be given opportunities to hear more talks about the fine points of life..." said President S. W. Stratton, chairman of the Presidents Committee on Entrance Facilities.

He said he was glad to hear that Dr. Stratton's talk would deal with the question of 'Should we have more talks?'

He added that the committee was impressed with the feeling that the students would like to have more talks and that the students would like to have more talks with the cooperation of the faculty.

Many of the students expressed the feeling that the institution was a place where they could find a lot of serious thinking that would be helpful to them.

The students were also to be given an opportunity to hear talks on a variety of subjects, including the effects of the war on the economy, the importance of studying the British Empire and the future of the United States.

The committee also suggested that the students be given an opportunity to hear talks on the effects of the war on the economy, the importance of studying the British Empire and the future of the United States.

Dr. Stratton urged all the members of the school, and to hear outside lecturers who will broaden their viewpoints. To do this end, we have introduced lecture classes and group singing by all those participating.

Dr. Stratton also recommended that the undergraduate bodies be given an opportunity to deliver their speeches to the students.