Paddling Backward as Mode of Ruling Freshmen

A paddling epidemic has seized severalnormally civilized colleges. More stringent rules and strong applications of the paddling system are called for today, if you want to get a glimpse of the paddling system under the rule of the Freshman.

One of our prominent young Hewlers, James R. Killian '26, has reported a paddling epidemic that is spreading alarmingly. The epidemic begins in the line-up for the early morning classes of a Freshman. "At present," Mr. Killian says, "the paddling system is on the rise, and it's more effective than the Freshmen themselves could ever have dreamed possible."

Mr. Killian's complaint is not the only one heard on this campus. "The paddling system is spreading all over the place," says the ever-reliable Dr. J. Everett '26. "The Freshmen are paddling each other in the halls, in the corridors, and even in the dining halls."

At present, the paddling system is spreading like wildfire. It is estimated that in the next few weeks, every Freshman in the college will be paddling at least once a day. The Freshmen are paddling each other out of the dormitories, in the hallways, and even in the classrooms.

The Freshmen are paddling each other in an attempt to get their own way. They are paddling each other in order to get the last word in any argument. They are paddling each other in order to get their own way in every possible situation.

The paddling system is spreading alarmingly. It is estimated that in the next few weeks, every Freshman in the college will be paddling at least once a day. The Freshmen are paddling each other out of the dormitories, in the hallways, and even in the classrooms.

The Freshmen are paddling each other in an attempt to get their own way. They are paddling each other in order to get the last word in any argument. They are paddling each other in order to get their own way in every possible situation.

The paddling system is spreading alarmingly. It is estimated that in the next few weeks, every Freshman in the college will be paddling at least once a day. The Freshmen are paddling each other out of the dormitories, in the hallways, and even in the classrooms.

The Freshmen are paddling each other in an attempt to get their own way. They are paddling each other in order to get the last word in any argument. They are paddling each other in order to get their own way in every possible situation.

The paddling system is spreading alarmingly. It is estimated that in the next few weeks, every Freshman in the college will be paddling at least once a day. The Freshmen are paddling each other out of the dormitories, in the hallways, and even in the classrooms.

The Freshmen are paddling each other in an attempt to get their own way. They are paddling each other in order to get the last word in any argument. They are paddling each other in order to get their own way in every possible situation.

The paddling system is spreading alarmingly. It is estimated that in the next few weeks, every Freshman in the college will be paddling at least once a day. The Freshmen are paddling each other out of the dormitories, in the hallways, and even in the classrooms.

The Freshmen are paddling each other in an attempt to get their own way. They are paddling each other in order to get the last word in any argument. They are paddling each other in order to get their own way in every possible situation.

The paddling system is spreading alarmingly. It is estimated that in the next few weeks, every Freshman in the college will be paddling at least once a day. The Freshmen are paddling each other out of the dormitories, in the hallways, and even in the classrooms.

The Freshmen are paddling each other in an attempt to get their own way. They are paddling each other in order to get the last word in any argument. They are paddling each other in order to get their own way in every possible situation.

The paddling system is spreading alarmingly. It is estimated that in the next few weeks, every Freshman in the college will be paddling at least once a day. The Freshmen are paddling each other out of the dormitories, in the hallways, and even in the classrooms.

The Freshmen are paddling each other in an attempt to get their own way. They are paddling each other in order to get the last word in any argument. They are paddling each other in order to get their own way in every possible situation.

The paddling system is spreading alarmingly. It is estimated that in the next few weeks, every Freshman in the college will be paddling at least once a day. The Freshmen are paddling each other out of the dormitories, in the hallways, and even in the classrooms.

The Freshmen are paddling each other in an attempt to get their own way. They are paddling each other in order to get the last word in any argument. They are paddling each other in order to get their own way in every possible situation.

The paddling system is spreading alarmingly. It is estimated that in the next few weeks, every Freshman in the college will be paddling at least once a day. The Freshmen are paddling each other out of the dormitories, in the hallways, and even in the classrooms.

The Freshmen are paddling each other in an attempt to get their own way. They are paddling each other in order to get the last word in any argument. They are paddling each other in order to get their own way in every possible situation.

The paddling system is spreading alarmingly. It is estimated that in the next few weeks, every Freshman in the college will be paddling at least once a day. The Freshmen are paddling each other out of the dormitories, in the hallways, and even in the classrooms.

The Freshmen are paddling each other in an attempt to get their own way. They are paddling each other in order to get the last word in any argument. They are paddling each other in order to get their own way in every possible situation.

The paddling system is spreading alarmingly. It is estimated that in the next few weeks, every Freshman in the college will be paddling at least once a day. The Freshmen are paddling each other out of the dormitories, in the hallways, and even in the classrooms.

The Freshmen are paddling each other in an attempt to get their own way. They are paddling each other in order to get the last word in any argument. They are paddling each other in order to get their own way in every possible situation.

The paddling system is spreading alarmingly. It is estimated that in the next few weeks, every Freshman in the college will be paddling at least once a day. The Freshmen are paddling each other out of the dormitories, in the hallways, and even in the classrooms.

The Freshmen are paddling each other in an attempt to get their own way. They are paddling each other in order to get the last word in any argument. They are paddling each other in order to get their own way in every possible situation.