Northeastern continued its hot streak on Tuesday night, as the team overturned a 2-0 deficit and won the game, 28-18.科技的胜利

Tech continued to show its mettle in the conference with a strong performance against the visitors. The game started with a strong performance from Kobera, who scored five goals to help the team take control of the game. Despite the efforts of the Northeastern guards, Kobera managed to find gaps in the defense and capitalize on them.

The second half was much the same, with Northeastern's defense stepping up and limiting the number of opportunities for Tech. Despite efforts to break through, the Northeastern defense held firm, enabling the team to secure a comfortable lead. The game was a testament to Northeastern's resilience and determination, as they managed to secure a victory in what was a tough game against a tough opponent.
