ARE WE ENTIRELY LACKING IN HONESTY?

ONE of the prime elements in the make-up of a successful man, be he an ordinary business man or be he an engineer, is honesty. This quality is of such importance in a man's character it be to do anything worth while. That Technology men, engineers in the making, to whom honesty should be a by-word, are no more honest than any other men, is an admission made in their favor for the principles of common decency in the matter of paying for newspapers.

Since the Student has in its present building, papers have been left on the table in the basement of Wallace Memorial, with a little box for coins. The total disregard for this hint that papers are free for has caused the newspapermen to threaten to discontinue the service for which many men seem willing.

It is at once strange and sad that a man who is willing to pay hundreds of dollars to obtain an education to fit him for a life of service for the benefit of his fellow man, would not stoop so low as to cheat a poor woman out of the few pennies upon which her living depends for daily bread.

Come, fellows. Do not quibble about the payment of a few pennies to the newspapers. The papers are brought for your own convenience, and you certainly should be willing to pay for them.

OFFICER OR PRIVATE?

This line is now at hand for the members of the Sephoren club to decide what branch of Military Science they will follow this coming term. As all of them now know, the Military Department has, in the past year or so, changed the system, so that the Sephoren specialize in some particular branch of the actual work of the Army.

In the minds of most of the men, this also brings to a head the question of whether they wish to be officers or to have the opportunity of being privates, so that they may get on to the ranks as a backs private, with the opportunity of climbing, in time of war, to higher positions.

While we are on the subject, the Lionnire wishes to correct a mistaken impression that the Sephoren are to follow naval continues. Following the Lionnire system, the Sephoren are to obtain their commissions through the Army, and, if at all possible, by their own efforts. There is no such thing as a naval commission from the Sephoren. The naval commission is for a man who wishes to get on to the Navy, not to the Army.

We wish to state that this is due to the fact that the Sephoren is a military club, and that the men of the Sephoren are to follow the course of study in the Army, and are to be commissioned as officers by the Army. This is a fact that has been made known to all of the members of the Sephoren, and it is a fact that is to be followed by all of the members of the Sephoren.

We know that many of the men of the Sephoren have been looking forward to the opportunity of being officers, and we wish to state that this is due to the fact that the Sephoren is a military club, and that the men of the Sephoren are to follow the course of study in the Army, and are to be commissioned as officers by the Army. This is a fact that has been made known to all of the members of the Sephoren, and it is a fact that is to be followed by all of the members of the Sephoren.
