SPRIT OF BEAVER CREWS INCREASES Track Men To Hold Handicap Meet Saturday Afternoon

Bill Haines’ Eights Pop Up
As Races With Navy Near

There was the old crew spirit behind each stroke of the oar, a spirit of “Beat the Navy” and then everyone else when Bill Haines sent his eights through an easy practice yesterday afternoon. With the increasing fine weather the oarsmen were making rapid strides toward the peak of their season, and the plan is to have many tough edges to smooth down.

Last night Bill took the Varsity eight for an easy row down-stream to the East Campus, then back, where they stayed on the rack and the first eight almost two hours. The remaining practice stations, Harris paid particular attention to the bow. The weather was not quite water cleanly and on the return to get the bow and center men to work on the way down stream. The eight crew worked steadily and during the going very nicely on the return.

J. V. Has Tough Luck
Last night the J. V. eight had a very hard time in the cold wind at the Farm bridge for a short row. Bill took the J. V. eight with eight rowers who could row in hand. Both sides were eager for a race. Bill said: “I had my easy row late but the 10’s started entirely different and did awful well. I was very pleased with the effort of the second Varsity, who rested on their own legs.” It turned out that a bowman rudder was the cause of their troubles.

Since the rudder was entirely blown away, prospects for a race were looking gloomy. For the afternoon the 10’s were going down-stream and the senior crew had to speed to keep the shell from tipping over. Bill coached them on the same lines as he did earlier in the season. Detailed plans for the race on the way down to the Union Club.

Varsity Beats 150’s in Race
Bill Haines announced yesterday that on Saturday of this week at 2 P.M., will be held the first handicap meet of the term which will be solely a rowing event. The event will take place on the Second River and will be entirely free to the public. The meet will be open to all competitors and it will be the first meet of the season.

The event, which is the result of the Varsity Club’s efforts, will be held on Saturday, the Fourth of July, and will be open to all competitors. The event will consist of three races, the first being a 100-yard sprint, the second a 200-yard sprint, and the third a 400-yard sprint. The races will be held over a three-mile course.

In a race which took the crews over the three-mile course, with little wind, the Varsity eight successfully succeeded in beating the 150-pound school. The Varsity eight showed a fine form in both their first and last races. The result of the long race was that the Varsity eight had made the 150-pound boat already to challenge the 150-pound boat already to challenge.

Following is the crew lineup.

SPRINTER PRACTICE STARTS

The sprinters practiced yesterday. The steeple-chase champion and now a student here at Tech, competing in the football field for the sprints, and the ten-pound stroke. The present writing there were practicing in the infield and marking out the en-

In practice sessions. Merryweather’s football team has been weeded out during the past indoor season.

Jack Wiebe former Tech man and this year’s track hero started a new flood among the tracksters in the pattern of Coach Hedlund, with several steps away from the general run. The plan is to have a large set of entrants to the Varsity eight, which will have a good chance of winning the first race of the season.

Today yesterday afternoon for the sprinters consisted mainly of practice work, with the line-up of the Varsity eight. When approached concerning this form he proceeded to help his

Jack Wiebe former Tech man and this year’s track hero started a new flood among the tracksters in the pattern of Coach Hedlund, with several steps away from the general run. The plan is to have a large set of entrants to the Varsity eight, which will have a good chance of winning the first race of the season.

Track Men To Hold Handicap Meet Saturday Afternoon

DOC CONNORS HAS GREAT NEED FOR FIELD EVENT MEN

Runners Out In Large Numbers
As Winds Improve

Cinder Track

MARRY RICK LIMBERING UP

With the benevolent aid of “Old Sol” the Varsity track team has been

In overtime lids on the sidewalks and between the legs. The ground is gradually: laying down some of its obstacles to the reason for which the morning buffet has been postponed to the statistics of “Doc” Johnson. The team is encouraged for the next day and every

It seems that in emptying the fountain box of water collected during practice, one of the rowers lost his footing on the slippery dock when attempted to duck under the upturned shell and fell into the water. The rowers lost his footing on the slippery dock when attempted to duck under the upturned shell and fell into the water.

My name is “Doc” Johnson. The team is encouraged for the next day and every

We will be held every second Sat. with the Beavers. However, during the months of April and May the freshmen will have the use of lower division for practice on 1, 4, 10, 16, 19, March 9, Frosh Finds Charles Cold
Although eaten of ice were found about in the Charles not so long ago still one ice cream vendor is yet to brave the early bathing rec

It seems that in emptying the fountain box of water collected during practice, one of the rowers lost his footing on the slippery dock when attempted to duck under the upturned shell and fell into the water. However, despite his chilly re-ception he proceeded to help his crew mates to place the shell on the rack, and then got to the showers.

DOCTOR'S OFFICER

The number of candidates for the track team has been weeded out in the last few practices, and Coach Luke Babson has announced the probable lineup for the Tufts’ game on April 6. The present fine up line: Clough, Merryweather, 2nd; Robinson, 3rd; Nichol, left adacker, center field. The position at right field is still an open one between Ricketts, Casey, Fox, and Conner. The pitcher for this game has not been picked, but it will probably not be announced until the game.

The team picked looks like a strong combination. Clough is a fast and accurate performer, and has been holding the first first sack in fine fashion in practice sessions. Merryweather’s throwing on the dirty cover has also been first class, and he has been moving up in the hump in evage form. The right fielder is still being fought for, with Ricketts of last year’s fresh man team and Fay showing up well. The remaining staff is working in form, but Luke has expressed no interest in any positions and positions are therefore up to everyone.

The Varsity eight is being run through the usual practice Thursday afternoon, changing sides and positions rapidly to give everyone a chance to show off his stuff. The -rough points are being watched carefully in order to have everything in good order for the Tufts game on April 6. This will be the first test of the season.

REALIZE Your Dreams of an INTERNATIONAL TRIP

$52.50 One Way
$150 and UP

The entire modern, comfortable European first-class service of the Cunard Line has been reserved for college, university, and school classes.

18-22 Days Under Par Excellence

To the delights of the great Art, Literature, and Industry, with a rare view in care of academic and professional interests.

For more information, write today for free brochure: CUNARD LINE, 111 Broadway, New York. Cunard Line offices at all principal seaports.

WOLF WALKERS

Spring Topcoats $20 to $40

TWO TROTTER SUITS FOR THE COLLEGE MAN

We are making a study of style and are specializing at popular prices—relax your nerves. The most college men are asked to pay.

$35.00

"Your Money Back If You Want It"

BERNARD M. WOLF
355-563 WASHINGTON AVENUE

WOLVES

ANNOUNCE LINEUP FOR TUFFS BASEBALL GAME

Team Rounding Into Form for First Test of Season

The number of candidates for the track team has been weeded out in the last few practices, and Coach Luke Babson has announced the probable lineup for the Tufts’ game on April 6. The present fine up line: Clough, Merryweather, 2nd; Robinson, 3rd; Nichol, left adacker, center field. The position at right field is still an open one between Ricketts, Casey, Fox, and Conner. The pitcher for this game has not been picked, but it will probably not be announced until the game.

The team picked looks like a strong combination. Clough is a fast and accurate performer, and has been holding down the first sack in fine fashion in practice sessions. Merryweather’s throwing on the dirty cover has also been first class, and he has been moving up in the hump in evage form. The right fielder is still being fought for, with Ricketts of last year’s fresh man team and Fay showing up well. The remaining staff is working in form, but Luke has expressed no interest in any positions and positions are therefore up to everyone.

The Varsity eight is being run through the usual practice Thursday afternoon, changing sides and positions rapidly to give everyone a chance to show off his stuff. The -rough points are being watched carefully in order to have everything in good order for the Tufts game on April 6. This will be the first test of the season.