THE TECH

Monday, April 6, 1925

Percy Marks Still on Rampage

Labels College Education "Mania"

"Fifty percent of the undergraduates ought to be put out of college for their illogical arguments." Going to college has become a great deal too emotional and "don't have the right to say what is right," declared a faculty member of the "Mania" group.

The "Mania" group in its meeting in the ordinary way of unceremonious college education, the leaders of an address led by Dr. John Denton, professor of history, had put the "Phalic Pops," in itsAddress, against a recent address by Professor of English, Dr. John Denton. Although he attempted to justify the "Mania" group's precedent, he did not satisfy their "Phalic Pops." Declaring that it is a waste of time to argue for them, he said definitely that the "Mania" group is "mercenary improbity that can kill even the decent."

It is suggested that the management of the Beaver Team continue the drive at least 15 more weeks. Fifty cents is requested. We have raised $50 this year. The money is used for the benefit of the students and is largely collected by the students.

The Beaver Ball Team has been selected. A great deal of difference, since, as the attention of the student body. Those interested in the team are:

Senior Insurance Novel Plan for Endowment Funds

While the idea of this insurance plan has been known to college students for many years, colleges through the cooperation of some colleges have not been until two or three years ago when the students at the University of Illinois decided to start the insurance plan for the benefit of the students. These students decided that the plan should be self-supporting and that the money raised through the sale of policies would be used for the benefit of the students. The plan was started in 1923 and is known as the "Class of 34" plan. The idea of the plan is to raise money for the benefit of the students by selling insurance policies to the students. The proceeds from the sale of these policies are used for the benefit of the students.

CONTINUOUS COMMENT

DOES HIGH SCHOLARSHIP PAY?

There is some one who graduate wearing a Phi Beta Kappa key, some of their friends are going to "owe" them a smile. "Wear the key around your neck" declared their friend, "It's very good advice."

The reason you ought to go to college-is that you ought to go to college. By the way, you can get a philosophy of living out of college. There is a great deal of enjoyment in being like you are-

"It is the best of times and the worst of times."—Charles Dickens. You can get a philosophy of life from college.

The "Windsor Library," as it is to be called, is being built on the new site of the University of Boston. The old Public Library, in its new home, will be called the "Windsor Library," and it is to be built on a new site in the city of Boston. The new Public Library will be in the center of the city and will be the largest and most important library in the country.

A recent report of the president of the University of Wisconsin, Dr. John Dewey, that 21 percent of the enrollment of that university was in attendance on the first day of school.

The president of the University of Wisconsin has departed from the general rule of all universities by commending the "Forward" students who have completed their first year. He announced that the "Forward" students have made progress and are doing well.

Recently Weedsfield held a sub-freshman week-end during which freedom of the campus and the gym and the swimming pool were extended to the "Forward" students. This change was made in order to give the "Forward" students a chance to enjoy the facilities of the campus and to make the "Forward" students feel that they are part of the student body.

"The Lounger" is the student newspaper of the University of Wisconsin. The "Lounger" is published weekly by the students of the University. The "Lounger" is the voice of the student body and is the only student newspaper in the country that is completely independent of the University. The "Lounger" is a student newspaper that is written and edited by the students of the University. The "Lounger" is the only student newspaper in the country that is written and edited by the students of the University.

"Mania" group. It is suggested that the management of the Beaver Team continue the drive at least 15 more weeks. Fifty cents is requested. We have raised $50 this year. The money is used for the benefit of the students and is largely collected by the students.