LEVIS RUNNERUP
Stubbs, Stellar Midshipman, Places First in Tournament

With his parrines, &ntext attacks working to perfection, John Levis has been named the top man in the final position in the In foils Championship. He was able to upset the regulars and aspirants to the place, and to become the first man to ever win a foil match in the tournament.

Levis was able to upset the regulars and aspirants to the place, and to become the first man to ever win a foil match in the tournament.

In the final position, the field was filled with the regulars and aspirants. In the tournament, there were 16 men, and each of them had to compete in the final position. Levis was able to upset the regulars and aspirants, and to become the first man to ever win a foil match in the tournament.

The tournament was open to all men, and each of them had to compete in the final position. Levis was able to upset the regulars and aspirants, and to become the first man to ever win a foil match in the tournament.

In the final position, the field was filled with the regulars and aspirants. In the tournament, there were 16 men, and each of them had to compete in the final position. Levis was able to upset the regulars and aspirants, and to become the first man to ever win a foil match in the tournament.