THE PLAYHOUSE

AT THE PLAYHOUSE

TWO PLAYS AT COLEY THEATRE THIS EVENING

Two plays, "Isabel," a three act comedy, and "Shall We,丁m the Ladies?," a one act mystery play, will be presented at the Playhouse on this evening, Thursday, April 15.

"Isabel" is by the well-known British playwright, George Grossmith, and was produced in London last year. It is a comedy of manners, set in the early 1900's, and deals with the social and personal problems of the title character, Isabel, a young woman who is trying to find her place in society.

"Shall We,丁m the Ladies?" is a one act play by the American playwright, Eugene O'Neill. It is a mystery play, set in New York City in 1925, and deals with the investigation of a murder.

These plays are presented by the College Players, a student drama club affiliated with the College of Arts and Sciences. The cast consists of students from all classes, and is directed by Professor John B. Barrymore.

THE YOUNGSTER'S REBELLIONS AND AMUSEST--ST. JAMES

The "Youngster," Philip Barry's amusing comic-play of youth and romance is now playing for the first time in this city by the Boston Stock Company at the St. James. After this week-end's performances it will resume the run of Spring evenings which it has enjoyed in Boston.

The play is well-written, devoid of the vices which have become so common, and an amusing sketch of New York's gay and fashionable society. The excellent production given by the principal players, who are almost entirely college graduates, is in excellent taste and proves superior to that of the Boston production. The play, in short, entirely fails to convey the same sense of what passes for real life in New York society.

The full text of the play may be read in the April 15 issue of THE TECH.

"Millin" Brown, Scandal, "Miss, you'll find me here when you knock the door," and "The Taming of the Shrew" are among the many popular plays produced by the American Foremost Florist this season.

The flower industry has been prosperous this year, and the florists are now busy preparing for the Junior Prom Week. They recommend the "Miss," a bouquet of red roses and lilies, which is said to be the most popular among the "Misses." The "Millin" Brown bouquet, with its fountain of white and red roses, is also recommended.

The "Shrew" is a bouquet of country flowers, which is said to be the most popular among the "Shrews." The "Taming" bouquet, with its mixture of red and white roses, is also recommended.
