TENNIS MEN ROUND INTO FRAME FOR SPRING MEETS

will have to be held before April 30 if the date of the first match. Broadhurst has had more practice during the Winter than Hinck, who is going to be playing on the basketball team, but whether this will be of any consequence is questionable. Hinck has been runner up to Russell in the two Fall Touraments in which he has participated, and is a fine all around player. Whether he will be in condition or not in the second meet depends on whether the two men hold their meet off in the first week of May. Hinck is a "public favorer." The logistic line means four positions for Ken Peck. Peck played the first meet last year, a strong singles game that is hard to beat. He does not possess that he will be able to force Hinck. Broadhurst has a fine singles, and Russell and interns, at least as many upsets in terms as to any other game. The other two woods are Wick Eddy and Louis Arans. Arans was second man in the Irish meet last year, and is a player very similar to Peck, providing a showdown that appears his opponent's game. Eddy played by a variety of means last year and can be expected to come through in fast company.

The double team will be, without a doubt, Russell and Brown and Hinck and Peck. This seems the best possible team as both Peck's and Hinck's are ndering satisfactory service in many of the larger power stations of the country.

T.C.A. CABINET HOLDS LAST MEETING OF YEAR

New Officers of Association Assume Duties Today

On Monty night was held the last meeting of this year's cabinet of the Christian Association. The new off- fice is the Rev. J. W. Will 22, president; R. C. Mclean 22, vice-president; G. F. Hooper 22, vice-preside; and I. E. Moor 22, treasurer; assumed their offices today. It was decided at the meeting that in case some guides were needed for Open Young Night last year they should be made free to the association. A complete scholarship will be made to the association. A complete scholarship will be made to the association. The association will be glad to assist in pro- viding others.

Several of the affiliated denom- inations submitted reports of the work they have done in their departments, and offered suggestions whereby the work in the various departments could be made more efficient next year. Each of the retiring directors made re- port for the coming year. Eddy was appointed to the office, the same recommendation having been made by the new executive committee, but the new executive will not be able to fill the position.
