FINANCIAL STATUS OF ACTIVITIES SET FORTH IN REPORT

All But Three of Self-Supporting Activities Announced

Only three of the self-supporting activities continued this year without a deficit, according to the report submitted to the Finance Committee at the final meeting of the 1924-25 academic year. The report includes a review of the financial status of the major activities and the professional societies, and sets forth the basis for the recommendation of a reclassified budget based upon these facts.

RecommendaTions That Activities Plan Budgets of Expenditures and Follow Them

The financial record of the major activities and the clubs took care of the other $18,303.76 handled during the past year by these activities. The professional societies, and other miscellaneous societies, handled $135,037.34 during the past year, according to the report. This is an all-time high, and furthermore it was suggested that the financial systems of the professional societies be revised this year, as a result of the report.

Mr. Raftery is a graduate student at the University of Pennsylvania. The real difficulty is in the indi- lation of the student, and as we feel that the ability of condition among the students, and until the ambitious can be bold to pursue a successful career, he has a pet theory that a good education is worth something. His ideas are always expressed in a spirit all add to a successful season. A. R. Wilson '24 of the Electrical Engineering department, and E. F.
