Soccer Team Battles Harvard

VARSIETY AND R.O.T.C. RIFLE TEAMS JOINED

According to a recent agreement between the Military Department and the A.M. Club, the Varsity rifle team will be joined by one team from the R.O.T.C., enabling them to win one team. It is believed that this Varsity rifle team will be joined by three Varsity teams and as many as two, permitting matches between all the teams.

As the season ended with the losses of Start and Arana, besides being one of the best fullbacks alongside of Kazazian. Young is playing his last year with the seniors.

Greatly improved Eleven will Represent Technology In Game at Tech This Afternoon

A much improved soccer team will face Harvard this afternoon on Tech Field when the Beginners meet the Crimson in their annual game. With four men, including last to the team for various reasons, the back line is no longer a weak spot. The Institutenakaras should make their best showing of the year to date.

Harvard was on the long end of a 3 to 2 score last year, barely outscoring Colby and Stony Brook, and flies into the team this year. Judging from past performances, the team will be in top form. The Harvard team has not been too successful this year, having been defeated by Dartmouth, Ithaca and Colby. However, they will be ready to start their season and therefore are expected to do well and should prove a big help to the Varsity.

A rendezvous for Tech fans will be the annual meeting of the Institute of Technology and the American Association of Collegiate Schools of Engineering, to be held at the Institute of Technology. According to a recent agreement between the Military Department and the A.M. Club, the Varsity rifle team will be joined by one team from the R.O.T.C., enabling them to win one team.