At Peak

As a climax to its first for midseason tour, the Engineers' soccer team has tackled to West Point where they encounter the highly-touted Army elevens this afternoon. There is much at stake in this game for the scholarship boys such as they have the opportunity not only to redeem themselves for the easy season defeats but to declare the season conclusively successful by win-ing today.

The Army team has made a very far more difference showing this year and has, by far, the most-vocal support the Engineers have ever faced. According to comparisons across the football continent the Engineers do not have a dose chance in the world to down the Leopards, and only the fans do not over the Board by a score of 18 to 3, to surprise to superiority West Point earlier in the season. Spring by the Engineers, each of the New England with victories over Dartmouth, New Hampshire State, and Worcester Tech, beat the Army team in which shows that the West Points are by no means invincible.

Have Hit Their Stride Scores are not a true barometer, are based on the status of the status of the Engineer soccer team. True, the early part of the season witnessed several decisive defeats but the team had not really gotten under way. They were not playing together, and did not show their real form until the last period of the first informal game with Harvard played on Turf Field. From this time on the team improved by leaps and bounds and the scoring punch which was lacking earlier in the season came to the fore.

Allied with victory the Harvard and dynamic form began their final battle. Coming into the stretch each leaderhead his stride, in new, now, the other took the lead. Fifty yards from the tape the Crimson wonder shot forward. Lfts a flash the wearer of the Crimson was after him but it was too ham, the Harvard man was crossed the final mark a winner by inches.

Luttrell trained his leader closely, coming in. The remaining of the battle for the honors but they could not show to advantage in such a first race.

The score really does not do justice to the Institute team as they were flying high each of the way. Mar-vels Hig was the heart of the team the second and the third. They were bunched closely enough together when the Engineers hit the tape the Crimson wonder shot forward. Lfts a flash the wearer
