OFFICES OF THE TECH
The Undergraduate of Technology

 Manila Tech Dining Room

Friday, Nov. 27, 1925

 Column 2

L follows have won a permanent place in the hearts of many Tech Students as "The Student Prince." When they reached the finish line, the cheers of the crowd rose to a crescendo. The three men, who were the leaders of the race, crossed the finish line at almost the same time. The winner, a member of the Tech track team, was followed closely by two other members of the team. The spectators were thrilled with the exciting finish and the cheers of the crowd continued for several minutes. The victory of the Tech track team was a significant achievement, demonstrating the hard work and dedication of the athletes. The event was particularly meaningful for the students, who had spent many hours training and preparing for this race. The atmosphere was electric, with the sound of thunderous clapping and the occasional shout of encouragement. The news of the victory spread quickly, and messages of congratulations poured in from friends and family. The sense of accomplishment and pride that the team felt was palpable, and the victory served as a reminder of the importance of hard work and perseverance. The feel of the moment was captured in the smiles and hugs exchanged among the team members, as they celebrated their collective achievement. The spirit of camaraderie and shared success was infectious, and it spread to those around them, who were inspired by the example set by the Tech track team. The victory was not just about winning a race, but about the sense of belonging, the shared experience, and the joy of a job well done. The experience was a testament to the power of teamwork and the indelible bond that comes from shared success.