Daylight Lantern Slide Projector

The air-cooling device employed. A small A.C. motor runs a blower which draws outside air through the air intake. This prevents the intense light from accumulating inside the case. The blower is both a ventilator and a fan. The case is made of aluminum, a light, strong material.