Mr. Sherman, in a newspaper report regarding the trip of the students to the West Coast, said they would call the attention of the college to the situation in the United States, and the various conditions that are making for a new era in foreign relations.

Mr. Sherman said that the students would travel by automobile, and during the summer months would travel by train, in order to see the various parts of the country in which the students will be working.

The trip of the students to the West Coast is being arranged by Mr. M. R. Copithorne, who is a graduate of Dartmouth College.

The students will leave the college on June 1, and will return to the college on July 15.

The students will be allowed to work on their own during the summer months, but will be required to submit reports to Mr. Copithorne at the end of each month.

Mr. Copithorne has arranged for the students to work on various projects, including the construction of a new building for the college, and the development of a new course of study.

Mr. Copithorne said that the students will be given every opportunity to work on projects that will benefit the college, and that they will be encouraged to think creatively and to develop their own ideas.
