Debaters

E. H. Williamson, the manager of Tech Debating, will be on hand to assist the team. The Tech Debating squad consists of 12 members, including the following articles, "Metallurgy of the Technical Graduate in Engineering: A Contribution to the Literature of the Field," says Karl Fenning in his article.

The speakers for the affirmative side are to present a resolution that the United States should enter the League of Nations. This resolution was passed by the United Nations last year and will be debated by the Tech Debating team.

The Technology team has made a reputation for itself along debating lines, which was witnessed in the Tech-Penn debate last year. The Tech Debating team has been working hard to prepare for this season's debates.

T. C. A. Will Hold Discussion Groups

During the past few weeks, the Tech Debating team has been discussing a resolution on the topic of "The Future of the League of Nations," which will be held in room 6-300 in the Main Building. The first meeting, held February 18, was attended by 15 members.

The discussion group has been made possible by the advice of the Tech Debating team, which has been working hard to prepare for this season's debates.

V.O.O.D.O.O. Will Have a Page in Herald

Sunday Edition Will Contain Work of Monthly

One full page of next Sunday's issue of the Student Record will be devoted entirely by V.O.O.D.O.O., Tech's monthly humor magazine. The feature section will appear with a policy by which the Tech Debating team will be held.

During the past few weeks the Beau Brummel, Saturday Night, the Yale Record, the Brown Catalogs, and the Boston number have been printed.

The second series will be given next Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in the main hall of the Main Building, and the selection of the best men to the meet, which will be held in New York City as usual.

INTER-FRATERNITY DANCE POSTPONED

Due to difficulties in obtaining the necessary permits for the dance that was to be held tomorrow evening, the dance has been indefinitely postponed. It is expected that the dance will be rescheduled within a few weeks, however. Several tickets were sold for the dance, but these will be taken up and refunded at the earliest possible time.

COPITHERE IS TO CONTINUE READINGS

Readings in the History of the Hebrew Bible will be continued this term by Prof. R. R. Bacon. During the latter months of the previous term, readings were given in honor of William Belknap, Jr., who was killed in the war.
