IN DEFENSE OF THE POINTLESS FORM

The average student here should ever try to calculate his waking hours, he would find that he spends about five hours a day in class, four hours in studying at home, and two more in satisfying personal needs. With such a handicap over its inevitable drama... The spoken stage... The motion picture may, when perfected, destroy one advantage of the form, the act of the great economic advantage the former has over the latter. The Interfraternity Conference held its annual meeting at the New Haven Inn on February 14th...