ARMORY DEFINITELY SECURED FOR 1926 TECHNOLOGY CIRCUS
Mass Meeting of Seniors Will Hold Aldred Lecture
SUB-COMMITTEE IS NAMED
Course IV Seniors To Hold Meeting in Rogers On April 8

April second has been selected as the date for the Armory Senior Meeting, at which the SeniorEndowment Fund Committee will be started. The meeting will be held in the Aldred Lecture Room, taking the place of the Aldred Lecture held in the last week of the month. This will be in line with the tradition established in the past.

Opening a new century, Professor William Frentzel of the English Department will address the Senior Class and other interested students in the subject of "The Scope and Limits of Literature." His talks will be in line with the tradition established in the past.

According to the Professor, there are three main factors to be considered in writing this kind of book: neatness, the first necessity, and secondly, and correctly arranged as the order of the things in the book, the second is the second, and the third is the second. The fault of the first is the first, the fault of the second is the second, and the third fault is the second.

This contest is the result of action taken by the Committee of the Class of 1929, and is sponsored by the Alumni Council, The Institute and on the faculty.
