Three Day Redemptions Drive Will Commence in Main

$12 TicketS ARE ON SALE

Noted Californians To Prove Music's Annual
Social Climax

Admission to the Junior Prom will not be enforced, although they are encouraged to wear formal attire or purchase tickets directly from the Prom committee, which will be selling tickets at the door. Tickets to the Saturday Night Prom will be sold at $12 per couple, in advance or at the door. Advance tickets are still available in quantities of 50 or more for $10 per pair, or in quantities of 25 or more for $15 per pair.

The Saturday Night Prom will be held in the Imperial Ballroom of the new Statler Hotel on the night of April 18, which will be preceded by a concert entitled "A Symphonic Score for a Night in Heaven." The concert will be held in the Imperial Ballroom of the new Statler Hotel on the night of April 18, which will be preceded by a concert entitled "A Symphonic Score for a Night in Heaven." The concert will feature music from the upcoming Prom, and will be conducted by the University Orchestra. The Prom will be attended by the entire student body, and will feature music, dance, and entertainment.

The following day, the Prom will continue with a series of events staged in Eastern colleges this spring. The activities will include a variety of social events, such as dances, parties, and musical performances. The Prom will conclude with a farewell event, which will feature a variety of activities, such as a farewell dance and a farewell party.

Rev. Roberts of Canada Will Give Series of Talks

T. C. A. Speaker Has Chosen Subject "The Race Between Religion and Chaos"

Closing its annual tour, "The Race Between Religion and Chaos," the Reverend Richard Roberts of Toronto will deliver a series of two lectures in Room 200 tomorrow and Tuesday at 4 o'clock under the auspices of the T. C. A. The series is being sponsored by the English department of the university.

Rev. Roberts is a well-known figure in Canada, having been a professor of literature and philosophy at Queen's University and a member of the Royal Canadian Institute. He is the author of several books on religious and philosophical topics, including "The Philosophy of Religion," which was published in 1925.

The first lecture, which will be delivered on Thursday, April 6, will be entitled "The Philosophy of Religion." The lecture will focus on the nature of religion and its role in society. It will be followed by a discussion of the various schools of thought on the subject, including the classical, modern, and post-modern perspectives.

The second lecture, which will be delivered on Friday, April 7, will be entitled "The Social and Political Implications of the Philosophy of Religion." The lecture will focus on the relationship between religion and politics, and will include a discussion of the role of religion in political decision-making and the impact of political decisions on religious beliefs.

The lectures are open to the public, and are free of charge. Refreshments will be served following each lecture.