“Lost Our Hearts,” Smith Girl Says In Praise of Tech Show

Samantha Evans Scores Hit With Tell Me You Love Me In The Same Old Way"

By Anne B. Radcliffe, ’37

Smith Technic Society’s last dance, the annual dance, was held in the Smith Gymnasium on Friday night. The door prize was a glass figure and pompadour. The singing was tuneful and the words’ pronunciation was convincing. The saddle and Gonzales—was convincing. The songs were pleasing.

The First Shoulder-to-Shoulder dance was held in the Smith Gymnasium on Friday night. The door prize was a glass figure and pompadour. The singing was tuneful and the words’ pronunciation was convincing. The saddle and Gonzales—was convincing. The songs were pleasing.

The First Shoulder-to-Shoulder dance was held in the Smith Gymnasium on Friday night. The door prize was a glass figure and pompadour. The singing was tuneful and the words’ pronunciation was convincing. The saddle and Gonzales—was convincing. The songs were pleasing.

The First Shoulder-to-Shoulder dance was held in the Smith Gymnasium on Friday night. The door prize was a glass figure and pompadour. The singing was tuneful and the words’ pronunciation was convincing. The saddle and Gonzales—was convincing. The songs were pleasing.

The First Shoulder-to-Shoulder dance was held in the Smith Gymnasium on Friday night. The door prize was a glass figure and pompadour. The singing was tuneful and the words’ pronunciation was convincing. The saddle and Gonzales—was convincing. The songs were pleasing.