BOSTON APPLAUDS FIRST HOME SHOW OF "WEST IS EAST"

Catty Song and Dance Numbers Insure Success of 1927 Musical Comedy

DEMAND MANY ENCORES

Marked by enthusiastic applause and keen appreciative laughter on the part of the audience, the first Boston performance of "West is East" brought the crowd as close as the Castle Square Theatre. A spirited, zany in the battle of fashion, witnessed one of the most successful shows which has ever been put on by the undergraduates of the institute.

The Rogers show has the much favorable reception in New York. Hartford and Northampton, easily captured the hearts of the Penn girls and their escorts.

Encores after encores were rendered in the dance numbers, in response to the deafening applause received for each. The number of these encores numbered to be the "Black Bottom," by which several encores were lavished before the audience could be satisfied.

Audience Likes M. T. Parody

Of the many parodies given, by far the favorite was "Would You Believe It?" cleverly parodied, written by David E. B. Sample "27, and Thomas H. Fahey "27. It started off with a trick of keeping the noose twirling on the shelves and was not eliminating. The skirt of more serious lyrics, "Tell Me That You Love Me," in the Parody "27, met with a most unanimous response from the audience. For a while again responsible for the verse, while the piano followed came from the pen of a freshman, Howard E. Rich.

Frederick E. Gunzburg "27, made an instant hit with his whirling out of "Carnival of the Animals," while the Rogers show took a first with "A Mouse in the Kitchen" that could not make a move on account of a close-up of the hotel. A cigarette would have made the opera a success.

Easy Carried and Installed

SO simple is Du Pont Ventube to install that the most experienced man can handle the job. One man can cut 400 feet of Ventube in two or three hours. He can carry 200 feet of Ventube for long distances without difficulty.

The tough fabric used in Ventube assures ruggedness and durability; and the special treatment makes it highly resistant to acid waters, dry rot and fungus growth. It can be used over and over again.

Using Ventube, coupled to small blowers, to clear away the smoke fumes after shots does away with the costly practice of blowing the air lines for your drills and other equipment.

EVERY man should know how simple the Ventube Ventilating System is to install and how economical its initial, operating and maintenance cost.
