THE TECHNOLOGY, A NAVAL POWER

This following news dispatch from Annapolis, Md., appeared in this morning's Globe. "Tech undoubtedly has the strongest and best crew that it has ever seen this year and is not handicapped by having the old favorites back in any case.

"For years the Tech crew has been considered the best in the South and it looks like they will be the best this year. The Tech has been practicing hard and is ready to take on any ship in the country."

"The Tech crew is expected to do well in this year's races and is looking forward to a great season."

SOVIET COLLEGES

A NOTHER organization has recently discovered that the Constitution of these United States is subversive to the people as it is expressed by the American Legion, D. A. E., the Anti-Slavery League, the Federation of Women Voters, and the people's desires. The Liberal Club of the State Normal School at West Chester, Pa., was ordered to stop its "sedition" meetings due to the activities of these organizations.

THEMEX CAMPUS

"The movements in our campuses is directly linked to Soviet Russia," is the claim of the Legion. The charge rests on the fact that the club members, including representatives of Harvard, Yale and Princeton, are all communists, and that they opposed the dismissal of certain professors. Apparently, the Legion is the Bill of Rights in the Constitution was inserted to brine certain states into the Union and it has no meaning of any kind. What will the next election be like if it is forbidden to criticize the reigns powers? All those who fail to support Mr. Coolidge will be deported to Russia if the campaign of the patriotic organizations is successful. The supporters of the opposing candidate will have to rely on other tactics. In the meantime the American college students who believe in free discussion will continue to be branded as "agents of Soviet Russia."

THESE THOUSAND ORCHESTRAS

 THIS question before the house is: "Do these thousand orchestras as much good as they think?" The answer points to be said on both sides of the question; but it might well be to make a summary survey of the situation.

In the first place there is the traditional thing to do get to the Junior Press or an orchestra of national distinction. The distinction, that lends itself to the occasion, the advertising value of the orchestra's reputation, and the temptation, is cottect a certain extent a large graduate support.

But on the other hand, the men who do the practical work can ask: "Is the current state of affairs as good as it seems?" There are many who believe that it is foolish to spend so much upon these so-called "first-rate" orchestras. Those who have the privilege of hearing them say, "Well, the Tech camp on the Schuykill is the most interesting" and that it is a good orchestra without employing the German War debt.

The Junior Press chorus should be equipped to afford a group of novelty orchestras, features which would distinguish it from ordinary dance "teams." The music from the Rhaders was unexpectedly good but it was not exceptional.

THE TECH BOOK LIST

Just to show that human nature has not changed since the days of the ancient authors, Horatio Window presents to us this sparkling novel. Accordingly, that he may be saved from the popular campus "queens" could be found in the book. The author has an immense background of intimate knowledge of every phase of the life of the present generation. There are certain people who are likely to feel influenced by the life of the character who is developed in this book. Those are early boys and girls, who are likely to feel the influence of the "queens," that they are not as good as a B and C, and between just a crew and the Tech Team.

The honor system at Vanoc college has collapsed as far as the campus candy shop is concerned. Girls had been at their honor to save the cost of the candy they bought. The news of about 48 days made it possible to keep the candy shop open.
