M. I. T. TENNIS TEAM BEAT B. C. EAGLES

Over Nolan, in doubles. The Eagles showed to better advantage on these courts and the last two games had to be decided by tie brakes. The scores were 7-5, 6-3, 6-2 and 6-4. At one time the Eagles' hopes of breaking into the final four were high. But the Red team's steady play held their hopes in check.

BEAVER TEAM IS HELD SCORELESS

So simple is Dr. Pentte Venuto to install that the most inexperienced man can handle the job. One man can put up 400 feet of Venuto in two or three hours. It can cover 300 feet of Venuto long distances without difficulty.

The tough fabric used in Ventube assures ruggedness and durability; and the special treatment makes it highly resistant to aid weather, dry rot and fungus growth. It can be used over and over again.

GORDON R. WILLIAMS TO HEAD BENCHMARK

Alumni Convention Will View Scientific Demonstration - To Have Boat Ride

MEET JUNE 10TH AND 11TH

Grand Ball Room of the Waldorf Astoria. With characteristic initiative and originality the New Yorkers, led by President Desmond, are at work on the development of two scientific demonstrations which will be on exhibit at the convention. Just as was the Phantom Radio Dinner, formerly at New York Cleveland, a year ago last winter, the committee feels that the confidential details must be withheld for the present, but that the air of expectancy which surrounds the convention. Many of the Senators, particularly those who have accepted positions in the vicinity of New York, are already planning to take in this annual gathering and have it serve as their introduction to the ever-growing band of student alumni. New M. I. T. history is about to be made and the alumni who can but will not attend are already regretting it.

FOOTBALL

At the University of California, the coach and the Doctor's Team is expected to receive a warm welcome from the student body. Owing to an apparent lack of funds to purchase tickets for the game, the students have decided to sell their own tickets, and their company is expected to be greatly increased.

Tulare University and Louisiana recently engaged in a Fine Four tourney which will be the last in a series of collegiate matches.
