Work Out For First Time
In Shells; Sophomore Crew
Trains Harder Than Ever

The boys took to the shell like ducks to the water," was the comment of Capt. Peter Kirwia and Jim Alexander, headmen of the freshman crew, who had worked out on the shells for the first time this year. He is entirely satisfied with the showing thus far and claims that the yearlings have come along nicely by taking their initial workouts on the training barge if they are to be started with in the training.

A temporary lineup of the first crew has been made out, being based entirely on the work of the crew before the fall, plus two or three freshmen who have worked on the base. These boys are expected to make up the shell, in a very short time.

On Saturday morning the varsity had a practice on the shells. Three of the coaches were present, all three being from Maryland. These coaches were the only ones present, as the fall has been changed for the regatta, practically.

Sparre Outstanding on Defence

After the practice the varsity was divided into two teams, one consisting of the regulars, the other of veterans from last season's eights. In this season's Varsity, for the position of veterans. The regulars were well balanced and had the edge on the irregulars, being faster in every department. The old crew was moved up to the regulars, however, and the young men were moved up to the irregulars.

As a whole the Regals have shown a great deal of improvement, especially in regard to their rowing. It is gaining more and more accuracy every day, and they have shown a lot of effort the past week. They have been working on the shells for the past week, and have shown a great deal of improvement. The same can be said of the Ineligibles, and are working hard on the shells for the past week. The Ineligibles have shown a great deal of improvement, being more accurate every day, and have shown a lot of effort the past week. They have been working on the shells for the past week, and have shown a great deal of improvement. The same can be said of the Ineligibles, and are working hard on the shells for the past week. The Ineligibles have shown a great deal of improvement, being more accurate every day, and have shown a lot of effort the past week.

On Saturday afternoon the varsity had a practice on the shells. Three of the coaches were present, all three being from Maryland. These coaches were the only ones present, as the fall has been changed for the regatta, practically.

The varsity is now in perfect shape, and the team plans to meet Annapolis, West Point, Dartmouth and Temple this fall. The team plans to meet Annapolis, West Point, Dartmouth and Temple this fall. The team plans to meet Annapolis, West Point, Dartmouth and Temple this fall. The team plans to meet Annapolis, West Point, Dartmouth and Temple this fall.