From the standpoint of the people of Boston and New England have, through close association with the men of the Institute been able to see us as really men. It is our desire that this privilege be utilized more than it has ever been utilized before. One of the oldest and best traditions shall not die.