1000 ALUMNI GREET 'HALF A MAN' IN ITS BROADWAY TRIUMPH

Mammoth Wind Tunnel Which Was Installed in Aeronautical Building During Mid-Year Vacation

APPLAUD FOR FIVE MINUTES AT CLOSE OF PERFORMANCE

Best Acting of Show Is Done by Martin, Starrett, and McCormack

MUSIC NUMBERS CATCHY

By Wilfred J. Danby '29

New York, N.Y., Feb. 8, 1928 (Special) A new musical, entitled "Half a Man," has opened at the hardware store of at least 1000 Technology alumni, students, and faculty members of the "Half a Man." Tech Show 1928, a running re-creation of the massacre in Mooca Temple. The entire pro- duction was presented under the direction of the alumni and was so successful that it has been moved across the country.

Given catchy tunes to sing and clever lines to say, the cast added to their already set of setting, and the system of a number of the cast were the stars of the show. The audience seemed all well thought out, and several of the dance numbers were the talk of the town.

For the past month the dancing was practiced from morning till late at night. The cast was rehearsed until after two o'clock, and they were also given an unusually good performance.

In the past week the dancing was practiced from morning till late at night. The cast was rehearsed until after two o'clock, and they were also given an unusually good performance.

The alumni members of the cast were: Joe, Bill, and Jack. The alumni members of the cast were: Joe, Bill, and Jack. The alumni members of the cast were: Joe, Bill, and Jack.

For the past month the dancing was practiced from morning till late at night. The cast was rehearsed until after two o'clock, and they were also given an unusually good performance.