28 VOTES TODAY
ON COMMITTEES
FOR SENIOR WEEK
Will Elect 3 Marshals and 25 Committees to Assume Charge of Affairs
GIVE RESULTS TOMORROW
Preferential and Have-Space Systems of Balloting in Counting
Polls will be open in the Main Lebyour from 8:30 o'clock until 5:30 o'clock. The first group of three Basilies being admission of those Basilies who will be candidates for the position of Marshals or any of the other offices on the committee.
With the whole Class of 1928 eligible to vote, and are requested to vote very carefully, so that the results will be indicative of the choice of the voters. Balloting will be done by putting numbers explicit the marks on the ballots in the order of the vote's preferences.
Method of Counting Ballots
The Preferential System of counting will be used. The rules of preferential counting for the committee will be:
1. The ballots must be in order.
2. The order of the votes will count.
3. The committee's vote must be a legal vote.
In this system the number of votes cast for any office will be counted as a legal vote, but if a result is still too close, the preference votes of the entire ballot will be counted.
4. The committee's vote must be a legal vote.
A committee to publish a statement in the next issue of The Recital under the military merit list in the order of the preference votes of the entire ballot.
5. The committee's vote must be a legal vote.
Method of Counting Ballots
The Preferential System of counting will be used. The rules of preferential counting
for the committee will be:
1. The ballots must be in order.
2. The order of the votes will count.
3. The committee's vote must be a legal vote.
In this system the number of votes cast for any office will be counted as a legal vote, but if a result is still too close, the preference votes of the entire ballot will be counted.
4. The committee's vote must be a legal vote.
A committee to publish a statement in the next issue of The Recital under the military merit list in the order of the preference votes of the entire ballot.
5. The committee's vote must be a legal vote.
Method of Counting Ballots
The Preferential System of counting will be used. The rules of preferential counting
for the committee will be:
1. The ballots must be in order.
2. The order of the votes will count.
3. The committee's vote must be a legal vote.
In this system the number of votes cast for any office will be counted as a legal vote, but if a result is still too close, the preference votes of the entire ballot will be counted.
4. The committee's vote must be a legal vote.
A committee to publish a statement in the next issue of The Recital under the military merit list in the order of the preference votes of the entire ballot.
5. The committee's vote must be a legal vote.
Method of Counting Ballots
The Preferential System of counting will be used. The rules of preferential counting
for the committee will be:
1. The ballots must be in order.
2. The order of the votes will count.
3. The committee's vote must be a legal vote.
In this system the number of votes cast for any office will be counted as a legal vote, but if a result is still too close, the preference votes of the entire ballot will be counted.
4. The committee's vote must be a legal vote.
A committee to publish a statement in the next issue of The Recital under the military merit list in the order of the preference votes of the entire ballot.
5. The committee's vote must be a legal vote.
Method of Counting Ballots
The Preferential System of counting will be used. The rules of preferential counting
for the committee will be:
1. The ballots must be in order.
2. The order of the votes will count.
3. The committee's vote must be a legal vote.
In this system the number of votes cast for any office will be counted as a legal vote, but if a result is still too close, the preference votes of the entire ballot will be counted.
4. The committee's vote must be a legal vote.
A committee to publish a statement in the next issue of The Recital under the military merit list in the order of the preference votes of the entire ballot.
5. The committee's vote must be a legal vote.
Method of Counting Ballots
The Preferential System of counting will be used. The rules of preferential counting
for the committee will be:
1. The ballots must be in order.
2. The order of the votes will count.
3. The committee's vote must be a legal vote.
In this system the number of votes cast for any office will be counted as a legal vote, but if a result is still too close, the preference votes of the entire ballot will be counted.
4. The committee's vote must be a legal vote.
A committee to publish a statement in the next issue of The Recital under the military merit list in the order of the preference votes of the entire ballot.
5. The committee's vote must be a legal vote.
Method of Counting Ballots
The Preferential System of counting will be used. The rules of preferential counting
for the committee will be:
1. The ballots must be in order.
2. The order of the votes will count.
3. The committee's vote must be a legal vote.
In this system the number of votes cast for any office will be counted as a legal vote, but if a result is still too close, the preference votes of the entire ballot will be counted.
4. The committee's vote must be a legal vote.
A committee to publish a statement in the next issue of The Recital under the military merit list in the order of the preference votes of the entire ballot.
5. The committee's vote must be a legal vote.
Method of Counting Ballots
The Preferential System of counting will be used. The rules of preferential counting
for the committee will be:
1. The ballots must be in order.
2. The order of the votes will count.
3. The committee's vote must be a legal vote.
In this system the number of votes cast for any office will be counted as a legal vote, but if a result is still too close, the preference votes of the entire ballot will be counted.
4. The committee's vote must be a legal vote.
A committee to publish a statement in the next issue of The Recital under the military merit list in the order of the preference votes of the entire ballot.
5. The committee's vote must be a legal vote.
Method of Counting Ballots
The Preferential System of counting will be used. The rules of preferential counting
for the committee will be:
1. The ballots must be in order.
2. The order of the votes will count.
3. The committee's vote must be a legal vote.
In this system the number of votes cast for any office will be counted as a legal vote, but if a result is still too close, the preference votes of the entire ballot will be counted.
4. The committee's vote must be a legal vote.
A committee to publish a statement in the next issue of The Recital under the military merit list in the order of the preference votes of the entire ballot.
5. The committee's vote must be a legal vote.
Method of Counting Ballots
The Preferential System of counting will be used. The rules of preferential counting
for the committee will be:
1. The ballots must be in order.
2. The order of the votes will count.
3. The committee's vote must be a legal vote.
In this system the number of votes cast for any office will be counted as a legal vote, but if a result is still too close, the preference votes of the entire ballot will be counted.
4. The committee's vote must be a legal vote.
A committee to publish a statement in the next issue of The Recital under the military merit list in the order of the preference votes of the entire ballot.
5. The committee's vote must be a legal vote.