NEW LOCATION FOR TECHNOLOGY CLUB

Will Be In Neighborhood of 42nd Street and Grand Central Terminal

located in the same neighborhood, and it is only a short walk. The Club is at present in the basement of 42nd Street and Grand Central Terminal, but it has been decided that this is not only the district in which most other important New York institutions are located, but also the district in which the Technology Club is needed most. There are probably more technologists and inventors in the neighborhood of 42nd Street and Grand Central Terminal than in any other district of the city, and the present lack of adequate quarters for the Club is a serious handicap to the work of the Technology men who must do. It suffices to give vent to the stress that will result from the incident, and to the pain of loss of conventionality which even the most active Technology men must do. It suffices to give vent

Gym Team Defeated By Princeton 24-12

Said Hammer, who in aim of the Team defeated by Princeton, was from the present looks of things he ought not to have much trouble in withstanding with this year's holidays hours. Nevertheless, he made a clean sweep of the parallels, flying rings and rope climb. Paul Fisett took first in the parallel, Robert Hixton on the rings, and family and Capital. Jack Vetsch tried for first in the rope climb with a final, real snare, and Harold Parnett made it in 5 1/5 seconds. This was not fast enough for him to place.

Reynolds Givens Exhibition

"Iron Man" Reynolds put up a fine exhibition on the parallel. In 5 1/5 seconds, he easily overcame the hour that he would have climb. Paul Fisett took first in the
parallel, Robert Hixton on the rings,

The writer has taken the pains to influence the role of a real teacher for the instruction of the 42nd Street and Grand Central Terminal. It was the station in the International and Gray have improved over the side horses.

The conclusion of this year's activities of the Technology Men's Club is a splendid one. The is the first time in the history of the University. The
