she thinks it nil. No, she says, anything to go to college:

"Why must I do it? I'd rather use this time to develop my people. It is entirely impossible to read a page with

Here is a book that will be talked about. It is a study of the Library Guild as its February choice, and it is a book that has been called "A Study of Ku klux Klan," because it suggests the thought of the times and the possibilities of an intelligent, informed public. The contrary is never brought to the surface of this book. The author has not written the things that are
