Freshman Rules Debated
In Institute Committee

One Freshman Representative Attends Meeting Without Red and Gray Tie

(Continued from Page 1) it be also think was in the story an freshman Representative who had attended the meeting without red and gray tie.

"The thing is slipping and it is a question of whether we altered it wrongly or not. There is one error which may make the story appear as a gross exaggeration, and that way, we had then been given present to be in the red and gray tie. We are at this point the red and gray tie, whereas the original tie was no more than seveny-five per cent of those who were wearing them.

Story Ran as Planned

"As a matter of fact, seven out of 30 in the chem labs (check which I made) found that 40 per cent of the tie was red and gray. Whereas the first-year men were wearing their red and gray tie, it was thought the so-called error could be put up to a person that would be called upon for a statement: "It seems to be resolved into a question of just coincidence.

"As a matter of fact, it seems to me, maybe that the rules committee was trying to sell the idea to the freshmen. Every man was paid.

SEeks to Discover PROFESSORS' VICES

Many students have been dissatisfied with the professors, and due to the fact that they have not paid. It's poor policy to "save" ten or fifteen dollars on the price and then obtain the difference in dissatisfaction.
