The Tech to Print
Names of Freshmen Not Wearing Ties

Plan Will Be Started With List Of Suspended Students

Next Issue

As a further development in the plan to make the Freshmen rules effective in the last month during which they can properly be enforced, a list of all the more consistent violators of the Freshmen's rules from this week starting will be printed in next week's issue. In addition, as has been the custom, a list of those who have not purchased Freshmen ties will be printed, as well as the names of all the more consistent violators of the Freshmen's rules from this week starting with their class. These rules are designed to prevent the violation of the Freshmen's rules by the Freshmen, and as such will be of benefit to the freshmen, as well as those who have suspended them.

DR. TRYON DISCUSS ENGINEER'S TRAINING

Professor J. L. Tryon, chairman of the committee on engineering education, delivered an address last Friday in the first and third classes of Western University, discussing his views on the subject. He was accompanied by Professor Tryon, who discussed the future and the importance of engineering education. The discussion centered around the future of the medical profession in engineering and pure science.

FREEMEN ARE URGED BY INSTITUTE COMMITTEE TO UPHOLD RULES

This year, being the first during which the Freshmen rules have been in operation, the committee finds that many present many difficulties. It is necessary to be sure that the Freshmen are not bound to occur too late in the period when the Freshmen are being tested. When matters come to a stage where the committee can no longer be considered, the committee will take some action.
