As stated elsewhere on this page, a large organization composed primarily of people who are interested in aviation have just announced a film to be shown in the United States and abroad. This film is called "Wings," and it is the story of an aviator who is fighting a losing battle against wind and weather. The film is in color and has been produced by the United States Government, which has been financing it. It is scheduled to be shown in London, Paris, and other European cities, and in the United States, it is to be shown in New York, Chicago, and other large cities.

The film is in color and is the story of an aviator who is fighting a losing battle against wind and weather. The film is in color and has been produced by the United States Government, which has been financing it. It is scheduled to be shown in London, Paris, and other European cities, and in the United States, it is to be shown in New York, Chicago, and other large cities.