Junior Prom Goes Merrily At Copley

When the main crowd arrived from Jordan Hall at 11:15 o'clock, a considerable crush was caused in the check room, but this was soon alleviated and the Promenaders passed through the receiving line which consisted of President Samuel W. Brainard, Assistant Dean Harold K. Libbey '17, Mr. and Mrs. Robert P. Bigelow, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin S. Webster 38, and Mr. and Mrs. James R. Jack.

After the three hours of enforced inaction in seeing the Tech Show the dance was in high spirits and ready for the dancing which awaited them. The lively music of the orchestra which greeted them as they approached the ball-room scattered all serious thoughts and instilled zest and enthusiasm into the holiday revelers.

Entering into the ball-room the girls were given their Prom favors the nature of which the committee had refused to divulge previous to tonight. They turned out to be bridge sets with two gilded folded card-cases enclosed in a moroccan leather case.

Junior Prom, which everyone has looked forward to for months, is right here and will soon be over but while it is here everyone is enjoying himself or herself to the utmost. The two tea dances have come and gone and the last dance has been played, mirth and music will predominate at the climax of the year's social season.

THE TECH ELECTS

At a recent meeting of the Managing Board of THE TECH the following elections were made: Advertising Manager, Gregory Smith, '30; Treasurer, Gordon K. Lister, '30; Smith has been serving during the current volume as Treasurer, while Lister has been working in the capacity of Assistant Circulation Manager.
