HUMANS COURSE IS DISCUSSED AT MEETING, MONDAY

Dr. Charles R. Gow is Chosen as First Head of New Department

HIGH IDEALS OUTLINED
Belief Expressed That Average Man Takes Himself Too
Coquettish

"Humanics, Its Relation to Life and Its Place in the Curriculum at Tech," was the subject of the meeting of the Student Association at the Joint Meeting of the Alumni Council and Faculty Club held in North Hall of Walker Memorial, Monday evening. The guests included President Stratton, William E. Nickerson, Professor of Humanics at the Institute, and Dr. Charles R. Gow, who was in his first week.

Dr. Gow in his usual philosophic vein outlined the high ideals he had in mind for the course and reviewed in brief his complete stand upon the subject. He cited the recent studies of Sir Alfred Elyot, the British生理学家, "Kleist, the Professor of Meningeology, and a German student who has just returned from Munich, as witnesses to the new interest in this subject. He said he knew that the students would find the course a help to their education, and that everyone will be better for the experiences gained.

Stating that he believed the average student of today is too singular and other students too serious, he added that he believed the students should seek a common purpose and that the course would give them a common purpose. He discussed the common purpose of the students, the common purpose of the nation, and the common purpose of the world. Table discussions, common sense and a knowledge of the fundamentals were the illustrations of successful and un

I. T. FRIEION WILL

SPEAK AT MEETING

Aeronautical Society Will Hear World War Pilot Tonight

Lientenant Samuel C. Frierson, Aeronautical Engineering, Boston Development Bureau, will speak to the Aeronautical Society at the Institute tonight in Room 218B at 7:30 o'clock tonight. Lieutenant Frierson was a pilot during the World War and afterwar years. He was the first pilot in the U.S. to fly solo in Europe and is now known as the "Father of the German prison camps," and an expert in the art of selecting stories and anecdotes of his life and career during the war in the prison camps where he was held. This man has been important to the story and all of the membranes are urged to be present. The students who have had the opportunity of hearing of the election of officers for the coming year will be eligible to vote for the club's glider, which will be held on Monday.

P E MEETING WILL BE HELD ON FRIDAY

Further plans for the mass meeting of the students which is to be held in the Great Court on Friday morning at 11:45 a.m. have been made and printed handbills will be distributed by the officers of the meeting. It is hoped that 75 to 100 percent of the students will be in attendance. This meeting is the first of the year, and it is important that all of the students will be present. The meeting will be held in the Great Court on Friday morning at 11:45 a.m. and will be attended by all of the students.

In the afternoon the student delegation will join with the main body of the students and will ride over to the Rocky River development on the Institute. This project is unique in the fact that it is the first of its kind in New York City and is the beginning of an experiment in urban planning. The students' interest has been great and they will be present in large numbers.

The Department of Yachts and Boats of the University will be in charge of the convention to attend the annual meeting of the University Yacht Club at Friday night.

Nomination Listings - Continued on Page 4

"At the Sign of the Greedy Fig" to be Shown Friday Night

Charles Brooks play, "At the Sign of the Greedy Fig," a two-act comedy, will be shown this Friday and Saturday night in the Common Room of the Fraternity House. The play is a part of a series of plays written and acted by members of the fraternity and is an attempt to give them, through Round Table, a greater understanding of the world. Further plans for the mass meeting of the students which is to be held in the Great Court on Friday morning at 11:45 a.m. have been made and printed handbills will be distributed by the officers of the meeting. It is hoped that 75 to 100 percent of the students will be in attendance. This meeting is the first of the year, and it is important that all of the students will be present. The meeting will be held in the Great Court on Friday morning at 11:45 a.m. and will be attended by all of the students.

In the afternoon the student delegation will join with the main body of the students and will ride over to the Rocky River development on the Institute. This project is unique in the fact that it is the first of its kind in New York City and is the beginning of an experiment in urban planning. The students' interest has been great and they will be present in large numbers.

The Department of Yachts and Boats of the University will be in charge of the convention to attend the annual meeting of the University Yacht Club at Friday night.

"Senior Superheater" Distributed to Four Year Men Yesterday Morning

Senior Week Paper Announces Activities and Plans in Unique Way

"Hot Rain Guests, Land This One!" is one of the first handbills which protect the rest of the week's activities. The student delegates will ride over to the Rocky River development on the Institute. The project is unique in the fact that it is the first of its kind in New York City and is the beginning of an experiment in urban planning. The students' interest has been great and they will be present in large numbers.

The Department of Yachts and Boats of the University will be in charge of the convention to attend the annual meeting of the University Yacht Club at Friday night.

According to the present plans, Senior Week will start with a comic picnic at Pembridge on Thursday, with a tennis event at Symphony Hall on Friday. On the Saturday, the junior class will gather at the University Club with the Board of Governors and the President of the University. On Sunday, the class will meet in the Main Dining Room of the University and will be followed by a banquet in the Main Dining Room of the University. On Sunday, the class will meet in the Main Dining Room of the University and will be followed by a banquet in the Main Dining Room of the University. On Sunday, the class will meet in the Main Dining Room of the University and will be followed by a banquet in the Main Dining Room of the University. On Sunday, the class will meet in the Main Dining Room of the University and will be followed by a banquet in the Main Dining Room of the University.